JFK Urges Tieup With Europeans, Eyes Tax Demand

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy, after calling for a partnership with a united Europe, today goes over the nation's economic books with Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon.

The President flew back to the capital from Camp David, the presidential hideaway in Maryland's Catoctin Mountains where he spent the night after his foreign policy speech in Philadelphia.

Kennedy's formal appointment was with Dillon and D. Walter W. Helle, chairman of his Council of Economic Advisers, for a talk backgrounded by rising pressures in and out of Congress for a tax cut this year.

Both Kennedy and Dillon have expressed the view that taxes should not be reduced until next year. However, Kennedy has indicated that the question of tax reduction this year was still open and depended on the state of the economy.

Representatives of both business and labor have proposed tax cuts. The situation likely will be aired later today at Kennedy's news conference.

Kennedy flew Wednesday morning from Washington to Philadelphia, where, at historic Independence Hall, he called for an international declaration of interdependence—a partnership with a united Europe.

The president's 36-minute speech was broadcast across the nation by radio and television. Before him as he spoke was a police-estimated crowd of 100,000, including 42 of the nation's governors who had motored to Philadelphia from Hershey, Pa., at the conclusion of their 54th annual conference.

Kennedy likened the coming together of America's 13 original colonies with the efforts to unify Western Europe. This comparison and his choice of the birthplace of U.S. independence for his remarks underlined that.

The United States looks forward to the creation of a United States of Europe as one step in a larger design, involving the progressive merger of separate sovereignties into some larger political unity.

"The United States looks on this vast new European enterprise with hope and admiration," Kennedy said. "We do not regard a strong and united Europe as a rival but as a partner."

Administration officials, however, cautioned against reading into Kennedy's speech any more than a long-range statement of purpose.

In his address, Kennedy said: "It would be premature, at this time, to do more than indicate the high regard with which we would view the formation of this partnership."

"The first order of business is for our European friends to go forward in forming the more perfect union which will someday soon make it possible."

U.S. Develops Secret Look For A-Arms

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has informed its European allies of the successful development of a new, secret electronic lock which will be used to reinforce safeguards against the accidental or unauthorized firing of nuclear weapons.

President Kennedy is expected to ask Congress soon for an appropriation of funds to complete work on the device, start manufacture and begin installation in nuclear weapons.

The Allies were told through the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, it was learned, that the new electronic lock will broaden the margin of safety in nuclear weapons control systems and strengthen the exercise of direct control over weapons by top commanders.

The device is authoritatively described as an electro-mechanical system controlled by a radio signal to be sent from a command headquarters remote from the actual missile site.

In effect, the device in its normal position makes a break in the electrical circuit necessary to the firing of the nuclear warhead. It couldn't be fired until an authorized commander dispatched the necessary coded radio signal that would operate the device. The device itself would not do the firing but it would control the arming of the warhead. This is comparable to cocking a rifle in advance of firing it by pulling the trigger.

Troy Man Accused Of Manslaughter

TROY, Ohio (AP)—Donald Young, 32, of Piqua, driver of a car in which his wife and three of his five children were killed, pleaded guilty to a charge of traffic manslaughter today in Miami County Common Pleas Court.

Young was taken to the county jail and ordered held on $15,000 bond pending a pre-sentence investigation.

Killed last Friday night when Young's car crashed into a utility pole two miles west of Piqua were his 30-year-old wife, Charlotte, two daughters, Linda, 7, and Kathy, 1½, and son William, 10. The couple's other two sons, Donnie, 8, and Rick, 3, were injured.

Circleville School Board Accepts Estimated Budget

The Circleville Board of Education voted Tuesday to accept its 1963 estimated budget to be presented to the Pickaway County Auditor.

The budget lists an estimated income of $994,211.19. The bulk of the income is from general property tax, an estimated $585,750, and from the state foundation program, $302,000.

The total estimated expenses set down in the budget are $947,517. Of this amount $658,800 goes for instruction, which includes teachers' salaries, textbooks, educational supplies and the repair and replacement of educational equipment.

In other action the Board voted to accept two resignations. Miss Margaret Rooney, hired recently by the board, resigned as seventh grade English teacher and Mrs. Carolyn Ann Solt resigned as Franklin St. Kindergarten teacher.

THE Board hired Mrs. Norma Marshall to fill the vacancy left by Mrs. Solt's resignation. Her salary is $4675 per year.

The salary of high school principal Richard Snouffer was raised from $8,000 to $8,400 per year by the board.

Two custodians were employed. John Beerey was hired at $2,900. He will work from 3 to 11 p. m. at the high school. Charles Stevens will be the custodian at the new

Violent Gun Fight in Oran Shatters Peace in Algeria

ALGIERS (AP)—A violent gun battle in the heart of Oran's European city today shattered Algeria's celebration of its first official independence holiday.

More than 100 dead and wounded were reported in the first hour of the fighting, which swept the former stronghold of European Secret Army Organization terrorists.

Two hours after the fighting started, gunfire still rattled over the city. French riot police cars set up positions near the battle area.

The gunfire panicked tens of thousands of Moslems in the midst of a delirious celebration. An official of the city's main hospital said all the casualties taken there were Moslems. But a number of Europeans also were killed or wounded.

A Moslem policeman said the firing came from holdout terrorists of the European secret army, whose leaders had bowed to Algerian independence after months of murder and arson. The policeman's report could not be immediately confirmed.

The Oran violence, first since Algeria became formally independent Tuesday, erupted against a backdrop of a power struggle for leadership of the new-born nation.

Virginia Strawser was hired as a cook at the South Court St. cafeteria.

The board voted to raise the school lunch price to 30 cents. It was formerly 25 cents.

The board will meet in adjourned session at 8 p. m. Monday to fill the remaining teaching vacancies.

Indian Lake Riots Bring 25 Arrests

RUSSELLS POINT, Ohio (AP)—Law enforcement officers, jail sentences and arrests apparently had their effect on the youthful holiday crowds at this Indian Lake resort area.

The highway patrol reported all was quiet early today. It was in sharp contrast to the disturbances here last Tuesday night in which a mob estimated at 2,500 participated.

Mayor Gene Gooding levied fines and jail sentences on at least 12 youths from the Dayton area as a result of Tuesday's rowdiness. The 12 were some of the about 25 persons arrested during the riot that started about midnight Tuesday in the boardwalk area of the popular resort spot.

The mayor levied different fines on each youth, from $15 and costs to $100 and costs. Six were given jail sentences, from 3 to 30 days. Two others were bound over for separate trials Friday.

A similar outburst occurred here last July Fourth, but officials said that was "a baby riot by comparison with the 1962 version." Six arrests were made last year.

Police Ponder Cache of Cash

Prisoner Holds Mum About $2.4 Million

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP)—Investigators concentrated today on convicted gambler Joseph (Newsboy) Moriarty in attempts to solve a $2.4 million question—who left the cache of cash in an abandoned automobile?

The Jersey City police chief, Austin J. Conley, said it all points to Moriarty, 52, now serving a 2-to-3 year term in the state prison at Trenton.

Conley said government bonds found with the currency were registered in the name of Moriarty and Moriarty's brother, Alfred, who died five years ago.

Lawrence A. Whipple, Hudson County prosecutor, and three aides spent 15 minutes with Moriarty Wednesday at the prison and told him of the find.

"You've just lost $2½ million," Whipple said he told the prisoner. "He listened deadpan," Whipple related, "then he said, 'You're telling me this, Mr. Prosecutor.' He would neither admit nor deny ownership of anything that was found. He said he would get a lawyer. He said he would consider making a statement afterward."

The fortune at issue, ranging in denominations from $1,000 bills down to $5, was found Tuesday by two unidentified carpenters in the trunk of a 1947 Plymouth housed in a garage.

R. W. Bachman, special agent in charge of the Newark office of the FBI, said Moriarty was arrested in a 1947 Plymouth in 1951.

Also found in the car were four guns—45 and 32-caliber revolvers, a 32-caliber Belgian automatic and 22-caliber rifle—and considerable ammunition. Equipment of the type used by bookmakers and numbers operators was discovered in a 1951 Ford stored in an opposite garage.

"We don't know yet who the money belongs to—ownership is a legal question for the U.S. attorney's office," Bachman said. "This is the largest amount of money I have ever come in contact with in all my experience with the FBI."

General Strike Tightens Grip On Brazilians

BRASILIA, Brazil (AP)—A general strike virtually paralyzed Brazil today amid a new governmental crisis touched off by the resignation of conservative Prime Minister Auro de Moura Andrade.

Army units and police were on the alert in Rio de Janeiro and other large cities as labor leaders ignored presidential appeals and pressed their campaign for a prime minister to be chosen from the Labor party.

Andrade quit Wednesday night after only 36 hours in office.

President Joao Goulart's office announced Andrade's resignation in a communique that said Andrade found it impossible to form a cabinet and bowed out. The president and his short-term prime minister were reportedly at odds on a choice of navy and air force ministers.

Goulart's left of center Brazilian Labor party and conservative forces, that include Andrade's social Democratic party, have been clashing since the crisis began to develop June 26.

Goulart and some elements in Congress also are feuding over how much power the legislative and executive branches should have.

Goulart had three days, under the constitution, to nominate a new prime minister for congressional approval. If he does not—or if the Chamber of Deputies rejects three successive nominees—the Senate can name its own choice.

Injuries Prove Fatal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ralph Thompson, 18, of Route 1, Gore, Hocking County, died in University Hospital today of injuries received when his car left Ohio 278 near Nelsonville, went into a ditch and hit some trees. The accident occurred Wednesday.

Second Fatality Recorded in Crash

A two-car collision, occurring in the south end of Columbus Monday night, claimed its second victim today.

Delbert W. Lee, 26, of 105 Fairview Ave., died in Mercy Hospital early today of injuries received in the fatal misap which also took the life of James D. McColley, 16, of 343 E. High St.

Both traffic victims were passengers in an auto driven by Ronald McCain, 20, of 152 Griner Ave. McCain is still a patient at Mercy Hospital.

Lee was born April 6, 1942, in Circleville, the son of Earl and Cora Lockhart Lee.

SURVIVING are his mother, Mrs. Cora Hardesty, and stepfather, Stanley Hardesty 105 Fairview Ave.; four brothers, Charles and Lloyd, of the home; James, US Navy; and Gerald Lee, Circleville; four sisters, Mrs. Effie Earhart, East Ringold; Mrs. Goldie Hettinger, Route 1, Ashville; Mary Gibson, Circleville; and Virginia Pollock, Circleville.

Services will be 2 p. m. Saturday at the Defenbaugh Funeral Home. Burial will be in Forest Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home beginning 4 p. m. Friday. McColley died Tuesday morning at Mercy Hospital from multiple fractures and internal injuries sustained in the crash.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Robert Goodchild, formerly Mrs. Robert L. McColley, Columbus; his father, Robert L. McColley, West Palm Beach, Fla.; a brother, Daniel McColley, Columbus; a half-brother, Gary, and a half-sister, Mary, both of Columbus; great-grandmother, with

Governors OK JFK Plan for Partnership

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—President Kennedy collected some bipartisan support among the nation's governors today for his Independence Day appeal for U.S. partnership with a united Europe.

Forty-two of the nation's governors were in the audience Wednesday at Independence Hall. They had driven from Hershey, Pa., to hear the President as the climax of their 54th annual conference.

The immediate reaction of the governors was favorable on Kennedy's European partnership proposal.

At their last business session in Hershey on the eve of the Fourth of July, the governors:

Called on Congress to pass an amendment to the Constitution to permit prayers in public schools. Took no action on civil rights after Gov. Ernest F. Hollings staged a successful filibuster.

Voted unanimously to support a National Guard without any cuts. Endorsed a proposal that each state be allowed to keep five per cent of its share of the federal income tax, to be used to finance expansion of education in the state.

Chose Florida as the site of their 1963 conference. The selection of the city will be up to Florida officials.

Wood Countian Sought in Slaying

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—Sheriff Earl L. Rife of Wood County said today he has alerted law enforcement officers through out this area for the arrest of Michel Flame, 43, wanted for questioning in the shooting death of his brother Marcel, 41, of near Portage.

The sheriff said the brothers had quarreled over placing of their father in a rest home. The shooting occurred Wednesday.

Mrs. Marcell Flame found the body of her husband in a pickup truck in a ditch about 2½ miles from their home and about a half mile from the Michel Flame residence. At first she thought he had been hurt in an accident, but upon arrival at a hospital physicians discovered a bullet hole in his back.

JAMES D. MCCOLLEY

whom he made his home, Mrs. Ida B. Mogan, 343 E. High St.

Services will be 9:30 a. m. tomorrow at St. Joseph's Catholic Church with Rev. Msgr. George O. Mason officiating. Burial will be in St. Joseph's Cemetery, Circleville.

Rosary will be recited at 8:30 p. m. today at the Defenbaugh Funeral Home. Friends may call at the funeral home.

Jap Industry Invited to U.S. Investment in U.S. Plants Urged by JFK

TOKYO (AP)—The Kennedy administration has invited Japan to invest in building factories in the United States.

Wichita, Kan., Wilmington, N.C., Maine, New Jersey and areas on the West Coast were mentioned as regions where industrialization might be expanded with Japanese funds.

Such a development would help correct a U.S. adverse balance of payments situation, sources said. Japanese exports to the United States last year totaled nearly $1.5 billion. Imports from the United States total $1.2 billion.

Japanese industry has been working on a theory that it must produce abroad to hold its overseas markets. Plants have been established in Southeast Asia, Latin America and on a limited scale in Europe. But there had been no talk here about moving into the United States.

The invitation was reported in today's Nihon Keizai, a respected financial daily, which said the invitation was received from the U.S. Department of Commerce through the U.S. Embassy in Tokyo.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman confirmed the offer but pointed out that the areas involved were not depressed regions but "areas of potential for further industrialization."

The spokesman said the offer was an extension abroad of programs by the various states to encourage investors from within the nation, resulting from the setting up of an Office of International Investment within the U.S. Department of Commerce.

Japanese business sources said the plan was still in an embryonic stage with many barriers involved, such as immigration laws relating to sending Japanese personnel to the United States, differences in management practices, and the gap between American and Japanese wage levels.

2 Girls Missing In Columbus OK

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two young girls missing since they disappeared from a park Wednesday morning were found unharmed walking along a Columbus street.

The girls, Mamie Ann Byrd, 12, of Columbus, and Sandra S. Pettit, 11, of Zanesville, told police a story of being taken to a garage by two men at the point of a gun and said they later escaped unharmed. They are with child authorities for further questioning. Police said there were several discrepancies in their story.

143 Are Killed During Holiday

Ohio Contributes 5 To Auto Death Count

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Traffic accidents killed a record 143 persons during the nation's 30-hour observance of Independence Day.

The death count on the nation's streets and highways exceeded the one-day Fourth of July holiday record set in 1956, the last year when a one-day observance was held.

The National Safety Council estimated earlier that during the holiday period from 6 p. m., Tuesday, to midnight Wednesday the traffic toll would fall somewhere between 110 and 150.

It also said that nearly all of the country's 76 million cars would be on the go.

The country's over-all accident death toll was 248. It included 15 deaths in boating accidents, 54 drownings and 36 deaths in miscellaneous accidents.

Howard Pyle, president of the National Safety Council, termed the record toll tragically high.

"We can only draw one conclusion from this needless waste of human life—drivers are failing to observe basic rules of common sense and courtesy," Pyle said.

Ohio contributed to the national total, but not in the predicted amount. There were five traffic deaths, just half of the forecast for Ohio. In addition, there were four miscellaneous accidental deaths.

The nation's worst traffic accident on the holiday killed seven persons in a head-on collision near Eveleth, in the Iron Range country of northern Minnesota. Five persons, including a couple and their two sons, were killed in one of the cars.

In Modesto, Calif., three children were killed by an auto as a Fourth of July parade broke up in the downtown district.

Among the 50 persons who drowned during the holiday period were five children aboard a small flat-bottomed boat which capsized in a lake near Sanford, Fla. Four other children and two adults were thrown into the water but were rescued.

An Atlantic Coast Line passenger train carrying holiday passengers from Florida to New York was derailed near Florence, S.C., killing the engineer and the fireman and injuring 13 persons.

High-Altitude Nuclear Test Slated Tonight

HONOLULU (AP)—The United States plans to explode a nuclear device high above Johnston Island tonight.

The U.S. Weather Bureau in Honolulu said skies should be clear and visibility good over the tiny Pacific Island.

Two previous attempts at a high-altitude shot failed because of missile troubles. The nuclear warheads in both cases were destroyed without a nuclear detonation.

Repeated delays and failures have caused speculation that the planned high-altitude series of three or four shots may have to be curtailed to two and possibly even a single shot.

The latest try—originally scheduled for the Fourth of July—was postponed until tonight because of apparent technical difficulties. There was no explanation for the delay.

The high-altitude blast is designed to knock out communications across the Pacific by punching a hole in the ionosphere—a band of space particles which reflect radio signals—and Van Allen radiation belts.

The fortune at issue, ranging in denominations from $1,000 bills down to $5, was found Tuesday by two unidentified carpenters in the trunk of a 1947 Plymouth housed in a garage.

R. W. Bachman, special agent in charge of the Newark office of the FBI, said Moriarty was arrested in a 1947 Plymouth in 1951.

Also found in the car were four guns—45 and 32-caliber revolvers, a 32-caliber Belgian automatic and 22-caliber rifle—and considerable ammunition. Equipment of the type used by bookmakers and numbers operators was discovered in a 1951 Ford stored in an opposite garage.

"We don't know yet who the money belongs to—ownership is a legal question for the U.S. attorney's office," Bachman said. "This is the largest amount of money I have ever come in contact with in all my experience with the FBI."

Second Fatality Recorded in Crash

A two-car collision, occurring in the southeast of Columbus Monday night, claimed its second victim today.

Delbert W. Lee, 20, of 105 Fairview Ave., died in Mercy Hospital early today of injuries received in the fatal mishap which also took the life of James D. McColley, 16, of 343 E. High St.

Both traffic victims were passengers in an auto driven by Ronald McCain, 20, of 152 Griner Ave. McCain is still a patient at Mercy Hospital.

Lee was born April 6, 1942, in Circleville, the son of Earl and Cora Lockhart Lee.

SURVIVING are his mother, Mrs. Cora Hardesty, and stepfather, Stanley Hardesty 105 Fairview Ave.; four brothers, Charles and Lloyd, of the home; James, US Navy; and Gerald Lee, Circleville; four sisters, Mrs. Effie Earhart, East Ringgold; Mrs. Goldie Hettinger, Route 1, Ashville; Mary Gibson, Circleville; and Virginia Pollock, Circleville.

McColley died Tuesday morning at Mercy Hospital from multiple fractures and internal injuries sustained in the crash.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Robert Goodchild, formerly Mrs. Robert L. McColley, Columbus; his father, Robert L. McColley, West Palm Beach, Fla.; a brother, Daniel McColley, Columbus; a half-brother, Gary, and a half-sister, Mary, both of Columbus; great-grandmother, with

Governors OK JFK Plan for Partnership

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—President Kennedy collected some bipartisan support among the nation's governors today for his independence day appeal for U.S. partnership with a united Europe.

Forty-two of the nation's governors were in the audience Wednesday at Independence Hall. They had driven from Hershey, Pa., to hear the President at the climax of their 54th annual conference.

The immediate reaction of the governors was favorable on Kennedy's European partnership proposal.

At their last business session in Hershey on the eve of the Fourth of July, the governors:

Called on Congress to pass an amendment to the Constitution to permit prayers in public schools.

Took no action on civil rights after Gov. Ernest F. Hollings staged a successful filibuster.

Voted unanimously to support a National Guard without any cuts.

Endorsed a proposal that each state be allowed to keep five per cent of its share of the federal income tax, to be used to finance expansion of education in the state.

Chose Florida as the site of their 1963 conference. The selection of the city will be up to Florida officials.

Wood Countian Sought in Slaying

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—Sheriff Earl L. Rife of Wood County said today he has alerted law enforcement officers through out this area for the arrest of Michel Flame, 43, wanted for questioning in the shooting death of his brother Marcel, 41, of near Portage.

The sheriff said the brothers had quarreled over placing of their father in a rest home. The shooting occurred Wednesday.

Mrs. Marcell Flame found the body of her husband in a pickup truck in a ditch about 2½ miles from their home and about a half mile from the Michel Flame residence. At first she thought he had been hurt in an accident, but upon arrival at a hospital physicians discovered a bullet hole in his back.

JAMES D. MCCOLLEY

whom he made his home, Mrs. Ida B. Mogan, 343 E. High St.

Services will be 9:30 a. m. tomorrow at St. Joseph's Catholic Church with Rev. Msgr. George O. Mason officiating. Burial will be in St. Joseph's Cemetery, Circleville.

Rosary will be recited at 8:30 p. m. today at the Defenbaugh Funeral Home. Friends may call at the funeral home.

Jap Industry Invited to U.S.

Investment in U.S. Plants Urged by JFK

TOKYO (AP)—The Kennedy administration has invited Japan to invest in building factories in the United States.

Wichita, Kan., Wilmington, N.C., Maine, New Jersey and areas on the West Coast were mentioned as regions where industrialization might be expanded with Japanese funds.

Such a development would help correct a U.S. adverse balance of payments situation, sources said. Japanese exports to the United States last year totaled nearly $1.5 billion. Imports from the United States total $1.2 billion.

Japanese industry has been working on a theory that it must produce abroad to hold its overseas markets. Plants have been established in Southeast Asia, Latin America and on a limited scale in Europe. But there had been no talk here about moving into the United States.

The invitation was reported in today's Nihon Keizai, a respected financial daily, which said the invitation was received from the U.S. Department of Commerce through the U.S. Embassy in Tokyo.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman confirmed the offer but pointed out that the areas involved were not depressed regions but "areas of potential for further industrialization."

The spokesman said the offer was an extension abroad of programs by the various states to encourage investors from within the nation, resulting from the setting up of an Office of International Investment within the U.S. Department of Commerce.

Japanese business sources said the plan was still in an embryonic stage with many barriers involved, such as immigration laws relating to sending Japanese personnel to the United States, differences in management practices, and the gap between American and Japanese wage levels.

2 Girls Missing In Columbus OK

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two young girls missing since they disappeared from a park Wednesday morning were found unharmed walking along a Columbus street.

The girls, Mamie Ann Byrd, 12, of Columbus, and Sandra S. Pettit, 11, of Zanesville, told police a story of being taken to a garage by two men at the point of a gun and said they later escaped unharmed. They are with child authorities for further questioning. Police said there were several discrepancies in their story.

2 Columbus Brothers Die in Montana Pond

BAKER, Mont. (AP)—The bodies of two Columbus, Ohio, brothers, who apparently drowned Monday while swimming in a livestock watering hole on a ranch near Baker, were found Wednesday by fishermen.

The men were Anell Adkins, 44, and Edgar Adkins, about 42. They had been looking for work in the area, Coroner Lee Stevenson said. They were last seen alive Monday afternoon at a Baker hotel.

143 Are Killed During Holiday

Ohio Contributes 5 To Auto Death Count

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Traffic accidents killed a record 143 persons during the nation's 39-hour observance of Independence Day.

The death count on the nation's streets and highways exceeded the one-day Fourth of July holiday record set in 1956, the last year when a one-day observance was held.

The National Safety Council estimated earlier that during the holiday period from 6 p. m., Tuesday, to midnight Wednesday the traffic toll would fall somewhere between 110 and 150.

It also said that nearly all of the country's 76 million cars would be on the go.

The country's over-all accident death toll was 248. It included 15 deaths in boating accidents, 54 drownings and 36 deaths in miscellaneous accidents.

Howard Pyle, president of the National Safety Council, termed the record toll tragically high.

"We can only draw one conclusion from this needless waste of human life—drivers are failing to observe basic rules of common sense and courtesy," Pyle said.

Ohio contributed to the national total, but not in the predicted amount. There were five traffic deaths, just half of the forecast for Ohio. In addition, there were four miscellaneous accidental deaths.

The nation's worst traffic accident on the holiday killed seven persons in a head-on collision near Eveleveth, in the Iron Range country of northern Minnesota. Five persons, including a couple and their two sons, were killed in one of the cars.

In Modesto, Calif., three children were killed by an auto as a Fourth of July parade broke up in the downtown district.

Among the 50 persons who drowned during the holiday period were five children aboard a small flat-bottomed boat which capsized in a lake near Sanford, Fla. Four other children and two adults were thrown into the water but were rescued.

An Atlantic Coast Line passenger train carrying holiday passengers from Florida to New York was derailed near Florence, S.C., killing the engineer and the fireman and injuring 13 persons.

High-Altitude Nuclear Test Slated Tonight

HONOLULU (AP)—The United States plans to explode a nuclear device high above Johnston Island tonight.

The U.S. Weather Bureau in Honolulu said skies should be clear and visibility good over the tiny Pacific Island.

Two previous attempts at a high-altitude shot failed because of missile troubles. The nuclear warheads in both cases were destroyed without a nuclear detonation.

Repeated delays and failures have caused speculation that the planned high-altitude series of three or four shots may have to be curtailed to two and possibly even a single shot.

The latest try—originally scheduled for the Fourth of July—was postponed until tonight because of apparent technical difficulties. There was no explanation for the delay.

The high-altitude blast is designed to knock out communications across the Pacific by punching a hole in the ionosphere—a band of space particles which reflect radio signals—and Van Allen radiation belts.

High Court Shuns 'Share-Tax' Demand

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Efforts to force Cincinnati to share its income tax collected on wages earned in the city by suburban residents failed in the Ohio Supreme Court.
The high court let stand lower court decisions dismissing a "share-the-tax" suit by Loveland, a suburb of about 5,000 population 15 miles northeast of Cincinnati. Some 500 Lovelanders work in the Queen City.
Loveland officials claimed Cincinnati's one per cent income levy interferes with the suburb's right to tax its own citizens. They assert Cincinnati officials refused to discuss reciprocity with officials of 13 suburbs.

Norfolk Avenue Residents Appear before City Council

City Council meeting in regular session Tuesday night were confronted with a citizens committee from the Norfolk Avenue area seeking "city privileges."
A spokesman for the group insisted that city fathers take action on the current need for city water and street repair in the Turner Subdivision.
Harold Clifton, council president, assured the group that the matter would be taken up immediately with the Health and Service Committees.
A resolution was adopted by the council under suspension of rules for curbs and gutters to be constructed in several areas throughout the city. Property owners involved will be notified of the emergency measure and will be given 30 days in which to complete the project. Otherwise the necessary work will be done and property owners will be assessed for the costs of construction.
CURBS and gutters are to be installed on both sides of Fairview Ave., from the Avondale Addition to Lancaster Pike; and a portion of East Franklin St.
An ordinance was passed to go ahead with a contract for the construction of a sanitary sewer system for the City View Addition, bordering Walnut Creek Pike. Assessments have been completed and right of way acquired in the area annexed by the city a little over a year ago.
In other action taken by council, approval was given the Service Director to go ahead with surface improvement of Mulberry Road. The improvement calls for grading, draining and surfacing. Curbs and gutters will also be constructed on several parcels of property as set down in a contract with Land Consolidation Inc.

Wife, Son Both Confess Killing of Lorain Man

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—Two persons have confessed the shotgun slaying of 38-year-old Grover Young. So far, authorities have not been able to determine which one is the actual murderer.
Lorain County authorities have in custody Mrs. Rebecca Louise Young, 37, wife of the victim. County Prosecutor Paul J. Mikus said she has confessed firing the fatal shot while her husband slept during the early morning hours of Monday, June 25.
Three hundred miles away, West Virginia authorities are holding 17-year-old James Lewis Young, the victim's adopted son, in Kanawha County jail in Charleston. State patrol trooper J. C. Boland says the son confessed pulling the trigger after grabbing the shotgun from his mother's hands.
Both were arrested Wednesday and their versions of the killing followed after questioning.
Assistant Lorain County Prosecutor John B. Otero quoted Mrs. Young, who is expecting a baby this month, as saying she and James stuffed Young's body into the trunk of the family car 18 hours after he was shot. The car was abandoned in a parking lot 200 feet from the Lorain police station, and the body wasn't discovered until Friday, June 29. Police at first thought the killing was the work of gangsters.
The youth was booked in West Virginia on a warrant issued here. Mrs. Young will be charged today, Mikus said.
The West Virginia trooper quoted James as saying his mother woke him up at 6 a. m. and told him she was going to kill Young because she was afraid of him and had incurred debts of which he was unaware. At first, James said his mother killed Young and he helped her, but later he switched his story and said he knocked the weapon out of her hands and fired the shot, Boland related.
Young was buried last Sunday at Elkview, W. Va., where the family formerly lived. James attended the funeral. Mrs. Young said she broke up the shotgun into three pieces and gave it to James when he left for the funeral.
In James' suitcase, trooper Boland said he found the 12-gauge shotgun, Young's dentures and his billfold.
The county prosecutor said Mrs. Young also related that she shot her husband in the head May 19 while he slept. She said she used a pellet gun. It didn't do much damage, because Young reported to police that he thought he had been clubbed by a prowler. She said he had been abusing her for three months.
James and his sister, Yvonne, 19, were the real children of Mrs. Young's deceased sister. When that sister died, Mrs. Young and her husband, who had been married 17 years, adopted the two children.
The Youngs had two children of their own, 3-year-old twins.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The abundance of America's gardens and farms will be in city groceries and countryside stands this week as the summer's harvest reaches market.
Look for a profusion of native vegetables and fruits for quantity purchases.
Little will be unavailable this week either at meat or grocery counters. It's the time of year for native fruits and vegetables and a motorist need only travel along a country road to find bargains.
Budget-minded shoppers will find plenty of green beans, cabbage, corn, cucumbers, lettuce, green peppers, peas, onions and tomatoes.
Plentiful fruits include cantaloupes, watermelons, peaches, lemons and oranges. Locally, some may be at bargain prices.
Meats in supply include chicken, turkey, bacon, smoked picnic meats and a variety of beef, lamb and pork cuts. Many stores are advertising "milk-fed spring lamb."
One retail chain is featuring ribs of beef at 59 cents a pound in its New York outlets.
As usual, dairy products remain in abundance. Eggs are in the same category.
July fish plentiful, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture, include fillets, shrimp and canned tuna.
Authorities quoted the boy as saying he piled prayer books and other papers in a chapel and lighted the pile. He said he then touched a match to choir robes hanging in a closet and fled.
The boy, whose identity was withheld, is a Cub Scout at the Oak Hill United Presbyterian Church on the city's East — side. He was released in the custody of his parents pending a hearing before juvenile officials.

Runaway Boy Covers 4,800 Miles Swiftly

REDONDO BEACH, Calif. (AP)—There was just one thing wrong with the 2,400 mile jet flight John O'Rourke, 13, took from Los Angeles to New York. He didn't have a ticket.
New York police, alerted by Trans World Airlines, met the plane, gave him breakfast and shunted him back to Los Angeles in time for lunch Wednesday.
John O'Rourke, the boy's father, of Redondo Beach, said the boy had run away previously to San Diego and Winslow, Ariz.

Common Pleas Court Hears Five Cases

Two Sentenced On Illegal Narcotic Charges

Pickaway County Common Pleas Court Judge William Ammer made dispositions on four cases and continued one in court action today.
Sentenced two to five years at the Ohio State Penitentiary in Columbus was Jack Watson. Alex Junior Combs was sentenced from two to five years at Mansfield by Common Pleas Judge William Ammer. Both men pleaded guilty to charges of forging medical prescriptions and the illegal procurement of narcotics. They had waived grand jury trial.
The case of Roy Waldo Johnson also accused of illegal procurement of narcotics, was continued.
Art Brewer, charged with malicious destruction in the burning three Pennsylvania Railroad boxcars, was sent to Lima State Hospital for a 30-day observation period. Brewer's sentence is pending.
Frank Vandegriff was charged with violating his probation. Judge Ammer extended his probation.

Striking Medics Handed Threats

REGINA, Sask. (AP) — The threat of violence was injected today into the strike of Saskatchewan doctors against the government's compulsory medical care program. Tempers grew short as more doctors reportedly were moving out of the province.
As the government program and doctors' strike moved into the fifth day, each side sought to marshal public support. Neither side showed any sign of backing down.
The doctors stuck to their demand that provincial Premier Woodrow Lloyd's Socialist government do away with the compulsory feature of the program. The government refused to budge and claimed the medical care situation was apparently under control. Deputy Premier J. H. Brockelbank declared there "appears nothing in the nature of panic and alarm."
But in the western Saskatchewan town of Swift Current, police guards were posted at the homes of two doctors after an organization calling itself the "Swift Current Citizens Safety Committee" threatened the doctors and their families.
The threats, in letters to the town's weekly newspaper and a radio station, ordered the doctors to get down from their "chosen pedestal" and return to normal practice by Friday morning. Otherwise, the letters warned, the doctors would "suffer such harm to themselves, their families or their property as the organization may deem fit."
The letters said the threats were "no more ruthless than the situation the doctors have subjected the people to in a callous disregard for health and safety."
In Saskatoon, Hans Taal, vice-president of the provincial Keep Our Doctors Committee, said a mass demonstration is planned in front of the legislative buildings later this week to demand the repeal of the government program.
But Bert McKay of Moosomin, president of the committee, said that "in a measure, we have lost the battle" because doctors already were leaving the province to practice elsewhere.

High Court Shuns 'Share-Tax' Demand

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Efforts to force Cincinnati to share its income tax collected on wages earned in the city by suburban residents failed in the Ohio Supreme Court.
The high court let stand lower court decisions dismissing a "share-the-tax" suit by Loveland, suburb of about 5,000 population, 15 miles northeast of Cincinnati. Some 500 Lovelanders work in the Queen City.
Loveland officials claimed Cincinnati's one per cent income levy interferes with the suburb's right to tax its own citizens. They assert Cincinnati officials refused to discuss reciprocity with officials of 13 suburbs.

Norfolk Avenue Residents Appear before City Council

City Council meeting in regular session Tuesday night were confronted with a citizens committee from the Norfolk Avenue area seeking "city privileges."
A spokesman for the group insisted that city fathers take action on the current need for city water and street repair in the Turner Subdivision.
Harold Clifton, council president, assured the group that the matter would be taken up immediately with the Health and Service Committees.
A resolution was adopted by the council under suspension of rules for curbs and gutters to be constructed in several areas throughout the city. Property owners involved will be notified of the emergency measure and will be given 30 days in which to complete the project. Otherwise the necessary work will be done and property owners will be assessed for the costs of construction.
CURBS and gutters are to be installed on both sides of Fairview Ave., from the Avondale Addition to Lancaster Pike; and a portion of East Franklin St.
An ordinance was passed to go ahead with a contract for the construction of a sanitary sewer system for the City View Addition, bordering Walnut Creek Pike. Assessments have been completed and right of way acquired in the area annexed by the city a little over a year ago.
In other action taken by council, approval was given the Service Director to go ahead with surface improvement of Mulberry Road. The improvement calls for grading, draining and surfacing. Curbs and gutters will also be constructed on several parcels of property as set down in a contract with Land Consolidation Inc.

Wife, Son Both Confess Killing of Lorain Man

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—Two persons have confessed the shotgun slaying of 38-year-old Grover Young. So far, authorities have not been able to determine which one is the actual murderer.
Lorain County authorities have in custody Mrs. Rebecca Louise Young, 37, wife of the victim. County Prosecutor Paul J. Mikus said she has confessed firing the fatal shot while her husband slept during the early morning hours of Monday, June 25.
Three hundred miles away, West Virginia authorities are holding 17-year-old James Lewis Young, the victim's adopted son, in Kanawha County jail in Charleston. State patrol trooper J. C. Boland says the son confessed pulling the trigger after grabbing the shotgun from his mother's hands.
Both were arrested Wednesday and their versions of the killing followed after questioning.
Assistant Lorain County Prosecutor John B. Otero quoted Mrs. Young, who is expecting a baby this month, as saying she and James stuffed Young's body into the trunk of the family car 18 hours after he was shot. The car was abandoned in a parking lot 200 feet from the Lorain police station, and the body wasn't discovered until Friday, June 29. Police at first thought the killing was the work of gangsters.
The youth was booked in West Virginia on a warrant issued here. Mrs. Young will be charged today, Mikus said.
The West Virginia trooper quoted James as saying his mother woke him up at 6 a. m. and told him she was going to kill Young because she was afraid of him and had incurred debts of which he was unaware. At first, James said his mother killed Young and he helped her, but later he switched his story and said he knocked the weapon out of her hands and fired the shot, Boland related.
Young was buried last Sunday at Elkview, W. Va. where the family formerly lived. James attended the funeral. Mrs. Young said she broke up the shotgun into three pieces and gave it to James when he left for the funeral.
In James' suitcase, trooper Boland said he found the 12-gauge shotgun, Young's dentures and his billfold.
The county prosecutor said Mrs. Young also related that she shot her husband in the head May 19 while he slept. She said she used a pellet gun. It didn't do much damage, because Young reported to police that he thought he had been clubbed by a prowler. She said he had been abusing her for three months.
James and his sister, Yvonne, 19, were the real children of Mrs. Young's deceased sister. When that sister died, Mrs. Young and her husband, who had been married 17 years, adopted the two children.
The Youngs had two children of their own, 3-year-old twins.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The abundance of America's gardens and farms will be in city groceries and countryside stands this week as the summer's harvest reaches market.
Look for a profusion of native vegetables and fruits for quantity purchases.
Little will be unavailable this week either at meat or grocery counters. It's the time of year for native fruits and vegetables and a motorist need only travel along a country road to find bargains.
Budget-minded shoppers will find plenty of green beans, cabbage, corn, cucumbers, lettuce, green peppers, peas, onions and tomatoes.
Plentiful fruits include cantaloupes, watermelons, peaches, lemons and oranges. Locally, some may be at bargain prices.
Meats in supply include chicken, turkey, bacon, smoked picnic meats and a variety of beef, lamb and pork cuts. Many stores are advertising "milk-fed spring lamb."
One retail chain is featuring ribs of beef at 59 cents a pound in its New York outlets.
As usual, dairy products remain in abundance. Eggs are in the same category.
July fish plentiful, says the U.S. Department of Agriculture, include fillets, shrimp and canned tuna.
Authorities quoted the boy as saying he piled prayer books and other papers in a chapel and lighted the pile. He said he then touched a match to choir robes hanging in a closet and fled.
The boy, whose identity was withheld, is a Cub Scout at the Oak Hill United Presbyterian Church on the city's East — side. He was released in the custody of his parents pending a hearing before juvenile officials.

Angry Cub Scout Sets Church Fire

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Police said today a 10-year-old boy admitted he set a $20,000 church fire because he became outraged by "some mean lady" who ordered everyone around at a Cub Scout meeting.
Authorities quoted the boy as saying he piled prayer books and other papers in a chapel and lighted the pile. He said he then touched a match to choir robes hanging in a closet and fled.

Common Pleas Court Hears Five Cases

Two Sentenced On Illegal Narcotic Charges
Pickaway County Common Pleas Court Judge William Ammer made dispositions on four cases and continued one in court action today.
Sentenced two to five years at the Ohio State Penitentiary in Columbus was Jack Watson. Alex Junior Combs was sentenced from two to five years at Mansfield by Common Pleas Judge William Ammer. Both men pleaded guilty to charges of forging medical prescriptions and the illegal procurement of narcotics. They had waived grand jury trial.
The case of Roy Waldo Johnson also accused of illegal procurement of narcotics, was continued.
Art Brewer, charged with malicious destruction in the burning three Pennsylvania Railroad boxcars, was sent to Lima State Hospital for a 30-day observation period. Brewer's sentence is pending.
Frank Vandegriff was charged with violating his probation. Judge Ammer extended his probation.

Striking Medics Handed Threats

REGINA, Sask. (AP) — The threat of violence was injected today into the strike of Saskatchewan doctors against the government's compulsory medical care program. Tempers grew short as more doctors reportedly were moving out of the province.
As the government program and doctors' strike moved into the fifth day, each side sought to marshal public support. Neither side showed any sign of backing down.
The doctors stuck to their demand that provincial Premier Woodrow Lloyd's Socialist government do away with the compulsory feature of the program. The government refused to budge and claimed the medical care situation was apparently under control. Deputy Premier J. H. Brockelbank declared there "appears nothing in the nature of panic and alarm."
But in the western Saskatchewan town of Swift Current, police guards were posted at the homes of two doctors after an organization calling itself the "Swift Current Citizens Safety Committee" threatened the doctors and their families.
The threats, in letters to the town's weekly newspaper and a radio station, ordered the doctors to get down from their "chosen pedestal" and return to normal practice by Friday morning. Otherwise, the letters warned, the doctors would "suffer such harm to themselves, their families or their property as the organization may deem fit."
The letters said the threats were "no more ruthless than the situation the doctors have subjected the people to in a callous disregard for health and safety."
In Saskatoon, Hans Taal, vice-president of the provincial Keep Our Doctors Committee, said a mass demonstration is planned in front of the legislative buildings later this week to demand the repeal of the government program.
But Bert McKay of Moosomin, president of the committee, said that "in a measure, we have lost the battle" because doctors already were leaving the province to practice elsewhere.

Just Like Home

Americans abroad don't ask for much — just all the comforts of home. And so it is that in Saigon, where Vietnamese authorities recently banned dancing, military personnel—presumably for consolation—are building a high school, a bowling alley, an Olympic-size swimming pool, a picnic ground with barbecue pits and an armed forces radio station to broadcast sports scores.

Trading Stamps Replace Cash?

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Trading stamps seem to be slowly taking the place of cash. Some 40 million U.S. families now collect them.

As a people we are developing a passion for privacy. At least 400,000 telephone subscribers have asked for unlisted numbers.

Odd things to be grateful for: Poker, which originated in the South, was played by both the boys in Blue and those in Gray during the Civil War. And quickly became one of the nation's favorite card games after the war ended.

Etiquette: In the smart set you now say "hello" when you are introduced, and it supposedly marks you as one of the common herd if you say "pleased to meet you."

Onward and upward with the ladies: There are now more than 300 women veterinarians in America.

The People of the Book

Were those who objected to an undenominational prayer in tax-supported schools, worshipping Jews, they would know a beautiful prayer, entitled "Aleinu" which begins with this stanza: "It is for us to praise the Lord of all."

To acclaim the greatness of the God of creation, Who has not made us as worldly nations.

Nor set us up as earthy peoples Nor making our portion as theirs, Nor our destiny as that of their multitudes.

For we bow in worship before the supreme King of kings, The Holy One, blessed be He."

Truly those who live in ignorance of their past, dwell in darkness. Anson Phelps Stokes in his magnificent study, "Church and State in the United States," speaks of the early days of this country:

"The citizens of the emerging United States were virtually all Christian men who differed much in matters of Church membership and loyalty, and in theological belief, and even, especially in the middle colonies, in national background, but they were one in their realization that God was their Father and that they were his children, and that there was in all of them a spark of the divine life which made them capable of great things if they would live worthy of their birthright."

All the leading men of the Revolution were religious men and most were church affiliated. Benjamin Franklin, for instance, said:

"I never was without some religious principles." He laid down his own concepts:

"That there is one God, who made all things.

That He governs the world by his providence.

That He ought to be worshipped by adoration, prayer, and thanksgiving.

But that the most acceptable service of God is doing good to man.

That the soul is immortal, And that God will certainly reward virtue and punish vice, either here or hereafter."

In his "Rights of Man", Thomas Paine wrote: "Man worships not himself but his Maker; and the liberty of conscience which he claims is not for the service of himself, but of his God."

One can go through American history, quoting leader after leader, but what I prefer to quote is one of the greatest religious statements of any period, namely, Abraham Lincoln's Thanksgiving Proclamation of 1863:

"Whereas it is the duty of nations as well as of men to own their dependence upon the overruling power of God, to confess their sins and transgressions in humble sorrow, yet with assured hope that genuine repentance will lead to mercy and pardon, and to recognize the sublime truth, announced in the Holy Scriptures and proven by all history, that those nations only are blessed whose God is the Lord..."

"... We have been the recipients of the choicest bounties of Heaven; we have been preserved these many years in peace and numbers, wealth, and power as no other nation has ever grown. But we have forgotten God. We have forgotten the gracious hand which preserved us in peace and multiplied and enriched and strengthened us, and we have vainly imagined, in the deceitfulness of our hearts, that all these blessings were produced by some superior wisdom and virtue of our own. The price of keeping pets: The average dog's board bill is reportedly $50 a year, that of a cat $65. But a lady we know who has a great dane says the big fellow costs her a buck a day to keep in chow.

Worth remembering: "There's never a favorable wind if you don't know what direction you're going."

Prosperity gauge: It has been found that holders of credit cards generally buy a more expensive grade of gasoline than those who pay with folding money. And they are more likely to say, "fill 'er up."

Nature notes: Unless driven by extreme hunger, mice rarely go more than 100 feet from their nesting place for food or water. A cricket's ears are in his legs. A bee has to loot 2,000 flowers to make a tablespoonful of honey.

cient to feel the necessity of re-deeming and preserving grace, too proud to pray to the God that made us."

The people of the United States have throughout their history devoted themselves to prayer, in the home, in the school, at the opening of public meetings, at the opening of each session of the Supreme Court and at each day of Congress.

Why is prayer abolished in 1962? Why is God denied in 1962? Why is agnosticism and atheism encouraged in 1962?

It is essential that the Supreme Court be headed or our way of government must be altered. Must we then choose between God and Caesar? No man need face such a dilemma. No child's needs to be told that he may no longer pray to God whose creative powers still prevail in a world that man has muddled. There can be no law against praying in silence. Let every child be given a card by his parents or clergyman and when the school day opens, let him pray in silence and let him add to his prayer the words, "And may God bless the United States Supreme Court with sanity."

Joe couldn't look you straight in the eye — his head kept jerking to one side!

He had spastic torticollis — spasms in one of those muscular cords that run from behind the ear to the top of the breastbone. Whenever one tightens, your head turns towards the opposite shoulder.

Spastic torticollis resembles any other neurotic or habit spasm. You've probably seen eyes blink, face twitch or shoulders shrug uncontrollably.

Occasionally, cerebral palsy or other brain damage paralyzes spasm - control centers. Certain tranquilizers — with side effects — may also paralyze these centers.

Arthritis, injured spinal bones — anything that pinches neck nerves — can trigger torticollis.

But it's usually a troubled mind — not troubled nerves — that spark these head twisting spasms. Anxious tension causes most torticollis. Young victims are so tense they often wet their beds and scream with night terrors.

You'd worry, too if you were boxed in by the boot-camp discipline of drill-sergeant strict parents.

Joe's spasms started gradually. At first one side of his neck felt tight and stiff. He could feel that muscular cord draw up and twitch.

Soon faint flickers muchroomed into convulsion - like jerks.

You can stop the spasms for a while, but the urge grows so strong, you have to give in eventually.

Spasms rarely stop without treatment. They may disappear if you stop taking these tranquilizer pills. Heat and massage help soothe and relax twitching muscle fibers.

Your doctor may prescribe other tranquilizers or sedatives that paralyze those nerves triggering each twisting spasm. He may even suggest a special collar to stretch and relax that irritable muscle, or surgery to cut the muscle or sever those irritable nerve fibers.

Today Joe can look you straight in the eye — and outstare you, too. His doctor sent him to a psychiatrist who soothed nervous tension hidden deep in his mind and when his mind relaxed, his neck muscle did, too!

He said it's just a case of mind over muscle!

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP) — The summer doldrums this year may be a bit more relaxed than usual. Part of this is due to the fatigue showing up in many industrial lines after months of expansion. Part is due to new labor patterns calling for longer vacations.

Together these add up to more plant shutdowns and longer ones in many communities.

And on the management side there is a tendency to wait and see what Congress will do about a number of issues hanging fire that could affect future business planning.

Some management planning may take shape after the Treasury announces at the end of the week its new rules for tax allowances for wear and tear.

Business will welcome whatever relaxation is granted. But many feel that the Treasury hasn't the power to go as far in setting new rules for depreciation allowances as industry feels it needs. This would require congressional action.

Also hanging fire is the tax cut issue. And business is inclined to wait and see in this instance, too. Involved is timing—tax cuts now or in the next session of Congress.

Also at stake is the kind of tax cut. Business naturally prefers a cut in corporate income tax rates, and a sharp reduction in the upper brackets of individual incomes, where business thinks it gets its funds for risk investment.

Labor naturally is advocating cut in the lower personal brackets. It holds that this will increase consumer purchasing power at a time when it is needed.

While these issues are hanging fire, business planning may mark time. But just as much a deterrent is the current uncertainty as to whether a slackening recovery is foretelling a coming recession—and whether the jitters in the stock market mean a readjustment of prices to earnings potentials or reflect a blow to public confidence in the health of the economy.

All of these things add to the usual slowdown in business at this time of year. But the slowdown probably would have been more noticeable this year in any event.

Industry vacations have been increasing for several years. This time they have the impetus of a number of new labor contracts that stress such fringe benefits. Last summer's one week shutdown may become two weeks this year, or longer.

But if more plants are idle for more days, there are other lines of business to reap a benefit from it.

More leisure time can mean more spending for recreation—boating, fishing, travel.

The industrial production index may drop this summer. But a number of service industries should report nice gains. Personal income totals are high. Americans have a huge total of savings on which to draw.

If business relaxes a bit more than usual this summer, maybe a lot of Americans will be relaxing, too.

Americans abroad don't ask for much — just all the comforts of home. And so it is that in Saigon, where Vietnamese authorities recently banned dancing, military personnel—presumably for consolation—are building a high school, a bowling alley, an Olympic-size swimming pool, a picnic ground with barbecue pits and an armed forces radio station to broadcast sports scores.

They already have a night-lit tennis field, two new combination tennis, badminton, volleyball and basketball courts, two handball courts, and a gymnasium converted from two quonset huts. If they decide to really stay awhile, they may never realize they aren't in southern California.

Trading Stamps Replace Cash?

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Trading stamps seem to be slowly taking the place of cash. Some 40 million U.S. families now collect them.

As a people we are developing a passion for privacy. At least 400,000 telephone subscribers have asked for unlisted numbers.

Odd things to be grateful for: Poker, which originated in the South, was played by both the boys in Blue and those in Gray during the Civil War. And quickly became one of the nation's favorite card games after the war ended.

Etiquette: In the smart set you now say "hello" when you are introduced, and it supposedly marks you as one of the common herd if you say "pleased to meet you."

But a nod, a pleasant smile and a firm handshake will get you by in any company that's worth being in.

Onward and upward with the ladies: There are now more than 300 women veterinarians in America.

Our quotable notables: "The difference between us and our neighbor is that we don't tell half of what we know while he doesn't know half of what he tells."—George D. Prentice.

Know your language: Can you think of another word besides "queue" that sounds the same after you remove its last four letters?

The price of keeping pets: The average dog's board bill is reportedly $50 a year, that of a cat $65. But a lady we know who has a great dane says the big fellow costs her a buck a day to keep in chow.

Notice on a Washington bureau-crat's desk: "The secrecy of my job doesn't permit me to know what I'm doing."—from Catholic Digest.

Status symbols: Bellhops at the Hotel Edison here wear a star on their uniform for every five years of service. The only five-star general is Manager Joseph J. Van, who started as a bag totter.

History lesson: James Madison was the only U.S. president who faced enemy gunfire and actively served as commander-in-chief while in office. On Aug. 25, 1814, he personally directed an artillery battery in a vain attempt to keep the British from entering the nation's capital.

Worth remembering: "There's never a favorable wind if you don't know what direction you're going."

The People of the Book

By George Sokolsky

Were those who objected to an undenominational prayer in tax-supported schools, worshipping Jews, they would know a beautiful prayer, entitled "Aleinu" which begins with this stanza:

"It is for us to praise the Lord of all.

To acclaim the greatness of the God of creation,

Who has not made us as worldly nations,

Nor set us up as earthy peoples

Not making our portion as theirs,

Nor our destiny as that of their multitudes.

For we bow in worship before the supreme King of kings,

The Holy One, blessed be He."

Truly those who live in ignorance of their past, dwell in darkness. Anson Phelps Stokes in his magnificent study, "Church and State in the United States," speaks of the early days of this country:

"The citizens of the emerging United States were virtually all Christian men who differed much in matters of Church membership and loyalty, and in theological belief, and even, especially in the middle colonies, in national background, but they were one in their realization that God was their Father and that there was in all of them a spark of the divine life which made them capable of great things if they would live worthy of their birthright."

All the leading men of the Revolution were religious men and most were church affiliated. Benjamin Franklin, for instance, said:

"I never was without some religious principles." He laid down his own concepts:

"That there is one God, who made all things.

That He governs the world by his providence.

That He ought to be worshipped by adoration, prayer, and thanksgiving.

But that the most acceptable service of God is doing good to man.

That the soul is immortal.

And that God will certainly reward virtue and punish vice, either here or hereafter."

In his "Rights of Man," Thomas Paine wrote:

"Man worships not himself but his Maker; and the liberty of conscience which he claims is not for the service of himself, but of his God."

One can go through American history, quoting leader after leader, but what I prefer to quote is one of the greatest religious statements of any period, namely, Abraham Lincoln's Thanksgiving Proclamation of 1863:

"Whereas it is the duty of nations as well as of men to own their dependence upon the overruling power of God, to confess their sins and transgressions in humble sorrow, yet with assured hope that genuine repentance will lead to mercy and pardon, and to recognize the sublime truth, announced in the Holy Scriptures and proven by all history, that those nations only are blessed whose people are the people of God; . . .

. . . We have been the recipients of the choicest bounties of Heaven; we have been preserved these many years in peace and numbers, wealth, and power as no other nation has ever grown. But we have forgotten God. We have forgotten the gracious hand which preserved us in peace and multiplied and enriched and strengthened us, and we have vainly imagined, in the deceitfulness of our hearts, that all these blessings were produced by some superior wisdom and virtue of our own. Intoxicated with unbroken success, we have become too self-sufficient to feel the necessity of redeeming and preserving grace, too proud to pray to the God that made us."

The people of the United States have throughout their history devoted themselves to prayer, in the home, in the school, at the opening of public meetings, at the opening of each session of the Supreme Court and at each day of Congress.

Why is prayer abolished in 1962? Why is God denied in 1962? Why is agnosticism and atheism encouraged in 1962?

It is essential that the Supreme Court be headed or our way of government must be altered. Must we then choose between God and Caesar? No man need face such a dilemma. WHEN IRVING LEVINE was acting as Moscow correspondent he once tried out a new transistor radio on a Soviet train. The Russian seated next to him tried desperately to contain his curiosity, but finally could stand it no longer. The way he phrased his question was this, however: "We have those things, too. What is it?"

Levine met another Soviet citizen who had just returned from a guided tour to Denmark. "Economic conditions there," he reported, "are desperate. The Danes obviously are penniless. There wasn't a line in front of a single shop!"

ROTHMAN'S summer SALE

DESERT CANDLES IN SCHIFF GARDEN — Mrs. L. E. Schiff has many interesting and beautiful plants in her garden. Pictured here are some of the desert candles also known as Eremurus and fox-tail lily. The Schiff garden has a fine collection of lilies in bloom now. These are in another part of the garden. The rock walls were built to form a series of terraces on the slope in back of the house.

Pauline Schiff's Artistry Apparent in Garden Design

By MRS. ELIZABETH G. JONES

It is frequently claimed that a well designed garden may be beautiful even when the flowers are gone.

In fact green gardens are regarded highly in landscape circles.

But last week I saw a garden that was not even green, yet so well designed it had a beauty of its own.

Mrs. L. E. Schiff, member of So-laquia Garden Club, who lives on Route 23 across from St. Joseph's Cemetery, has a garden that is "hurting for rain". But even in its bareness the rock garden was both interesting and lovely.

Pauline Schiff is a member of the Circleville Art League and as creative a gardener as you can find.

THE SCHIFF property is something of an acreage. One goes back a long lane to the low modern house with its background of tall trees. A row of evergreens follows the lane on one side. On the other is a white board fence lined with flowering crabs.

From the road to the hillock in which the house is situated is a big mowed meadow. Surrounding the house is the lawn. Angling off to the south east at the base of the rise is the vegetable garden as well as the blooming portion of the flower garden.

And don't think you cannot have color around the last of June and the first of July. Pauline Schiff's garden proves that you can.

Blooming now is a fine collection of lilies along with delphinium, veronica and globe thistle. There is also larkspur, an immense colony of sidalcea, a patch of corn flowers and a big planting of bells of Ireland.

The lily collection includes colors of turkey red, orange, deep yellow, pale yellow, cream and white.

Varieties include, Cinnabar, Harmony, Bellingham, Destiny, Golden Chalice, Enchantment, Mid Century and Harlequin.

PLANTED in rows near the adjoining vegetable garden are asters, forget-me-nots, centaureas, zinnias and marigolds.

In the very large vegetable garden are peas, tomatoes, cucumbers, carrots, spinach, beets and onions. There is a strawberry patch, too!

Mrs. Schiff says she has a very porous sandy soil and things re-seed like mad. The bells of Ireland, the cornflowers, the sidalcea, the larkspur and the echinops (globe thistle) are all volunteers.

There are even volunteer butterfly lilacs all over the place.

Pauline Schiff says that she cannot bear to uproot anything when it is just about to bloom. So many of the seedlings stay just where they first grew. There is an enormous specimen of mullein (the wild kind) that is standing near the vegetable garden and she's leaving it there until after bloom time.

The rock garden is of special interest. Right back of the house is a rather steep slope. This has been made into a terraced rock garden.

SMALL terraces are held up by stone retaining walls. At this very dry season the rock garden is suffering for water. Ordinarily sweet allsuum takes over in this season. But the hundreds of small seedling plants have not been able to live because of dryness.

On the top terrace almost on a level with the patio is a handsome fountain. Water drips from an urn held by a chubby little boy. Yew trees form a background for the fountain.

Around the fountain are two unusual plants. They are Eremurus or fox tail lily, sometimes called desert candle. These were yellow and in full bloom about the middle of June.

Interplanted with these were Jewels of Tibet. Jewels of Tibet are the large headed violet alliums. The heads are as round as a ball and of a most beautiful true violet.

Madonna lilies in clumps bloomed at the same time.

Now, however, the flowers are gone. Both Eremurus spikes and the round ball-heads of the allium are in the process of going to seed. But their form remains identical to the spheres and spikes of bloom.

TO MRS. Schiff's knowledge neither of these self sows. In back of the narrow lawn between the house and the slope are nice trees. The sycamore is a giant. One of the elms is enormous. There are smaller trees too including many hackberry trees.

The rock garden is at its best in April and May when the spring blooming bulbs give color. Mrs. Schiff has borders of tulips and grape hyacinths at this season.

Pauline Schiff has a wealth of plant material which includes a golden rain tree, a fig tree, a golden chain tree, a mimosa tree, several wisteria trees, many varieties of tree peonies and shrubs.

Mrs. Schiff is an arranger par excellence. She has won bushels of ribbons during her exhibiting career including the 1961 Pumpkin Show Best-of-Show.

She has many beautiful containers. At moving time one of her most difficult chores is packing her numerous containers and choice figurines.

Mrs. Schiff has a basement room just for containers. It was once a fruit room and has many shelves.

WHO does the weeding? Who made the rock walls? Mrs. Schiff herself! But her son, Jack Adkins, helped with the stone work and gives her an "assist" every now and then.

There are many things to take your eye when you visit Pauline Schiff including a beautiful parrot and a funny mynah that talks like a person.

Mrs. Schiff does interesting and beautiful art work using glass and paper as her media. She liked to work with unusual things and has done an abstract design with bright colored capsules. Still another time she worked with pills of pastel pink and green with white on a background of gold.

The result was a fantastically beautiful madonna.

But it is her garden: most of all that shows the real artistic ability of Pauline Schiff. . . A dry garden, hurting for rain, but still beautiful!

Combine Blue And Yellow In Your Garden

Remember the old rhyme, "Red and Yeller, Catch a feller". We've changed it a little bit. Now we say blue and yeller catches a feller's eye.

Just recently we have seen blue and yellow in several gardens and the combination is most effective colorwise.

Mrs. Lloyd Petty had gorgeous shades of blue delphinium planted near golden yellow achillea.

Miss Edna Rice used coryopsis and delphinium together to make a striking contrast.

Mrs. Ed Fetherolf had blue love-in-the-mist planted near bright yellow marguerites. Just in case you do not have them, marguerites are pure yellow daisies with feathery foliage.

Jerry Bartley Has Well-Planned Small Garden

Jerry Bartley, Tarlton Pike, has a corner garden full of well grown annuals. Flowers are planted in rows and well cultivated.

In this small corner Bartley has managed to have double gloriosa daisies, nasturtiums (not seen frequently now as in the past) sweet-peas, zinnias and glads.

Bartley likes spring daffodils too and gros iris and daylilies.

He had an orange hybrid lily which he purchased from Vaughan's Seed Co. He has lost the label and wondered if we could identify it.

Bartley raised tuberous begonias on his back porch. He simply grows them in pots, keeps them on a table and sees to it that the soil does not dry out. They are protected from the afternoon sun. None has come into bloom yet but the foliage is flourishing and healthy.

Bartley gardens on a small scale. Many a gardener we know (including myself) would do well to copy his little layout.

Got a Hot Item

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—Mrs. Fannie Behm was puzzled. She was sure the radiator of her car had plenty of water, but the temperature gauge on the dashboard showed the motor was very hot.

She had her husband check under the hood. Not only was there no water, there was no radiator.

Police decided thieves had stolen it sometime during the night while the car was in the family garage.

Rose Annual Now Available

The Rose Annual is ready! Put out each year by the American Rose Society this book is a "must" for every rosarian no matter how small his rose garden may be.

Fifteen new roses are beautifully illustrated in the new manual.

In an article, "New Roses of the World" 126 new varieties are described. These include both domestic and foreign roses.

Published for both the beginner and the expert, the American Rose Annual's 28 articles are an excellent collection of the latest information on general rose culture, and specific articles deal with rootstocks, floribunda roses, miniature roses, fragrance, propagation, landscape uses, importing and event including r e c i p e s for old-fashioned rose jars.

The Proof of the Pudding, now in its 36th year, reports on the performance of 159 new roses in home gardens throughout the nation and is an invaluable guide in planning new rose purchases.

Available from the American Rose Society, 4048 Roselea Place, Columbus 14, Ohio; 201 pages, 15 color plates, $4.50.

Garden Gossip

Mrs. Lawrence McKenzie, Route 1, Circleville, brought perennial sweetpea to the workshop of the Logan Elm Garden Club.

The foliage and tendrils of this easily grown perennial vine make excellent line material for arrangements.

The Wenrich Stuckey place on Route 56 has the white variety of the perennial sweetpea. It's pretty enough for a bride's bouquet.

When the white variety and the magenta variety of this perennial vine are planted together it frequently happens that the white disappears completely and only the magenta lives on. I don't know "how come".

Annual sweetpeas used to be a "must" in every garden. They are seldom raised now. In fact they are considered a temperamental annual.

My two grandsons came back from a bicycle sortie one day and each presented me with a long stemmed sweetpea blossom. One was a bright red and the other a true violet.

Betty Stump, a girl in the neighborhood, had sent them. The Stumps plant their sweetpea seeds on St. Patrick's day. They do this quite religiously. And they hit the jack-pot every year when it comes to sweet peas.

Mrs. Frank Graves, Logan Elm Garden Club, says it is not the arranging but the growing of flowers that she finds hard work.

Mrs. Fred Mavis, Sunshine Street, who was present at the workshop, can bear witness to the fact that flowers do take considerable work. Her favorite hours for working out in the garden are from 7 to 9 p. m.

The Mavis place has a path under the clothesline made of pea gravel. Mrs. Mavis says it is a very practical idea because it always keeps dry.

What's more it serves as a sort of sandpile for young Fred who thoroughly enjoys playing in the gravel.

Mrs. Harry Wright, Route 1, Circleville, an arranger of many years experience says that containers go out of style.

This is quite true. And Mrs. Wright says she looks at her containers now and thinks of the investment she has in them. This can be considered when one arranges flowers over a long period of years.

When Anita Moats had a party to celebrate her 15th birthday recently her mother used red hot pokers on the glass and wrought iron table on the patio. She arranged the red hot pokers in a white container in a metal holder.

Mrs. Raymond Moats, Route 4, Circleville, who is Anita's mother, has had her poker plant for several years. Right now after the flowers had been picked for the birthday party and the workshop the plant had seven more buds coming on.

Mrs. Judson Beougher, Route 1,

Laurelville, who is known for having a mid-summer garden full of blooming annuals says that this is not true at present.

In fact Mrs. Beougher confided that her flowers were still in the seed packages. Somehow or other she had just not got around to planting them.

Loring Hill, Kingston, really went all out for his daughter's wedding. He even gave the driveway a fresh coat of blacktop.

And who helped? None other than the bride herself. The Thursday before the wedding both Alice Lou and the father of the bride were splashed with tar.

Mrs. Floyd Ruble, who judged the show at the rose breakfast held several weeks ago in Robtown, has been complimented many times on her judging job.

Mrs. Ruble judged orally. This should be done more often. Exhibitors are hungry to know the judge's viewpoint.

There is one drawback to oral judging. Exhibitors have been known in the past to engage the judge in heated discussion. Exhibitors should keep still while the judge is making her remarks. Later, and only later after the judging is over may the exhibitor engage the judge in discussion.

Mrs. Lloyd Petty in our neighborhood has managed to stump expert Floyd Bartley. She has an enormous shrub in her yard (over 15 feet high) with fuzzy fragrant flower heads. Bartley could not identify it specifically but he believes it to be of the ash family. He took a branch of it and will report later.

The granddaddy of all southern magnolias, according to Robert Brehmer, belongs to Miss Anne Leist at 353 E. Union.

Brehmer procured seeds from this magnolia one year and grew several magnolias. One is now on the campus of Ohio State University.

According to Brehmer another nice specimen of Magnolia grandiflora is in Forest Cemetery on the Spangler lot.

There is still another magnolia that Brehmer knows about located south of the house of the cemetery superintendent. This is not in a sheltered location and is not thriving quite as nicely as the others.

We took some globe thistles (echinops) to the Logan Elm workshop. The thistles came from Pauline Schiff's garden.

Yvonne Drake, Route 1, Laurelville, a Logan Elm member had echinops in her garden, last year.

Wilmington Dairy Aides Set To Vote

CINCINNATI (AP) — The National Labor Relations Board ordered a collective bargaining election today among 18 employees of the Amelia Dairy Co. at its plants in Wilmington and Bethel. Employees involved are production, distribution, warehouse and maintenance workers.

They will vote July 11 on whether to be represented by the Milk and Ice Cream and Dairy Employees Union of Greater Cincinnati, northern Kentucky, Hamilton and vicinity (AFL-CIO).

She told me they were almost too prolific.

This is not a commonly grown plant. But it is one that should be in every garden. The flower heads are perfectly round and of a metallic blue.

According to Wayside Gardens, Mentor, globe thistle and white phlox combine nicely.

Ed Helwagen told us at the grocery store that Mrs. Helwagen had some truly elegant lilies. I understood him to say that there were thirty-odd blossoms on two lily stalks.

We had considerable excitement in the neighborhood. The dog at Eugene Gildersleeves chased the cat up the tree and the Gildersleeves sawed the tree down. Mrs. Gildersleeve claims the tree was coming down anyway.

Herman Davis was injured when his foot got caught in a power mower. He was cutting a grassy slope and pulling the mower backwards; he fell and caught his foot.

So Mrs. Herman Davis has been busy going back and forth to the hospital and had to give up her weed pulling job in DESERT CANDLES IN SCHIFF GARDEN — Mrs. L. E. Schiff has many interesting and beautiful plants in her garden. Pictured here are some of the desert candles also known as eremurus and fox-tail lily. The Schiff garden has a fine collection of lilies in bloom now. These are in another part of the garden. The rock walls were built to form a series of terraces on the slope in back of the house.

Pauline Schiff's Artistry Apparent in Garden Design

By MRS. ELIZABETH G. JONES

It is frequently claimed that a well designed garden may be beautiful even when the flowers are gone.

In fact green gardens are regarded highly in landscape circles.

But last week I saw a garden that was not even green, yet so well designed it had a beauty of its own.

Mrs. L. E. Schiff, member of So-liaqua Garden Club, who lives on Route 23 across from St. Joseph's Cemetery, has a garden that is "hurlin' for rain". But even in its bareness the rock garden was both interesting and lovely.

Pauline Schiff is a member of the Circleville Art League and as creative a gardener as you can find.

THE SCHIFF property is something of an acreage. One goes back a long lane to the low modern house with its background of tall trees. A row of evergreens follows the lane on one side. On the other is a white board fence lined with flowering crab.

From the road to the hillock in which the house is situated is a big mowed meadow. Surrounding the house is the lawn. Angling off to the south east at the base of the rise is the vegetable garden as well as the blooming portion of the flower garden.

And don't think you cannot have color around the last of June and the first of July. Pauline Schiff's garden proves that you can.

Blooming now is a fine collection of lilies along with delphinium, veronica and globe thistle. There is also larkspur, an immense colony of sidalcea, a patch of corn flowers and a big planting of bells of Ireland.

The lily collection includes colors of turkey red, orange, deep yellow, pale yellow, cream and white.

Varieties include, Cinnabar, Harmony, Bellingham, Destiny, Golden Chalice, Enchantment, Mid Century and Harlequin.

PLANTED in rows near the adjoining vegetable garden are asters, forget-me-nots, centaureas, zinnias and marigolds.

In the very large vegetable garden are peas, tomatoes, cucumbers, carrots, spinach, beets and onions. There is a strawberry patch, too!

Mrs. Schiff says she has a very porous sandy soil and things re-seed like mad. The bells of Ireland, the cornflowers, the sidalcea, the larkspur and the echinops (globe thistle) are all volunteers.

There are even volunteer butterfly lilies all over the place.

Pauline Schiff says that she cannot bear to uproot anything when it is just about to bloom. So many of the seedlings stay just where they first grew. There is an enormous specimen of mullein (the wild kind) that is standing near the vegetable garden. And she's leaving it there until after bloom time.

The rock garden is of special interest. Right back of the house is a rather steep slope. This has been made into a terraced rock garden.

SMALL terraces are held up by stone retaining walls. At this very dry season the rock garden is suffering for water. Ordinarily sweet alliums takes over in this season. But the hundreds of small seedling plants have not been able to live because of dryness.

On the top terrace almost on a level with the patio is a handsome fountain. Water drips from an urn held by a chubby little boy. Yew trees form a background for the fountain.

Around the fountain are two unusual plants. They are eremurus or fox tail lily, sometimes called desert candle. These were yellow and in full bloom about the middle of June.

Interplanted with these were Jewels of Tibet. Jewels of Tibet are the large headed violet alliums. The heads are as round as a ball and of a most beautiful true violet.

Madonna lilies in clumps bloomed at the same time.

Now, however, the flowers are gone. Both eremurus spikes and the round ball-heads of the allium are in the process of going to seed. But their form remains identical to the spheres and spikes of bloom.

TO MRS. Schiff's knowledge neither of these self sows. In the narrow lawn between the house and the slope are nice trees. The sycamore is a giant. One of the elms is enormous. There are smaller trees too including many hackberry trees.

The rock garden is at its best in April and May when the spring blooming bulbs give color. Mrs. Schiff has borders of tulips and grape hyacinths at this season.

Pauline Schiff has a wealth of plant material which includes a golden rain tree, a fig tree, a gold chain tree, a mimosa tree, several wisteria trees, many varieties of tree peonies and shrubs.

Mrs. Schiff is an arranger par excellence. She has won bushels of ribbons during her exhibiting career including the 1961 Pumpkin Show Best-of-Show.

She has many beautiful containers. At moving time one of her most difficult chores is packing her numerous containers and choice figurines.

Mrs. Schiff has a basement room just for containers. It was once a fruit room and has many shelves.

WHO does the weeding? Who made the rock walls? Mrs. Schiff herself! But her son, Jack Adkins, helped with the stone work and gives her an "assist" every now and then.

There are many things to take your eye when you visit Pauline Schiff including a beautiful parrot and a funny mynah that talks like a person.

Mrs. Schiff does interesting and beautiful art work using glass and paper as her media. She liked to work with unusual things and has done an abstract design with bright colored capsules. Still another time she worked with pills of pastel pink and green with white on a background of gold.

The result was a fantastically beautiful madonna.

But it is her garden most of all that shows the real artistic ability of Pauline Schiff. . . A dry garden, hurlin' for rain, but still beautiful!

Combine Blue And Yellow In Your Garden

Remember the old rhyme, "Red and Yeller, Catch a feller". We've changed it a little bit. Now we say blue and yellor catches a feller's eye.

Just recently we have seen blue and yellow in several gardens and the combination is most effective colorwise.

Mrs. Lloyd Petty had gorgeous shades of blue delphinium planted near golden yellow achillea.

Miss Edna Rice used coryopsis and delphinium together to make a striking contrast.

Mrs. Ed Fetherolf had blue love-in-the-mist planted near bright yellow marguerites. Just in case you do not have them, marguerites are pure yellow daisies with feathery foliage.

Jerry Bartley Has Well-Planned Small Garden

Jerry Bartley, Tarlton Pike, has a corner garden full of well grown annuals. Flowers are planted in rows and well cultivated.

In this small corner Bartley has managed to have double gloriosa daisies, nasturtiums (not seen frequently now as in the past) sweet-peas, zinnias and glads.

Bartley likes spring daffodils and goss and iris and daylilies.

He had an orange hybrid lily which he purchased from Vaughan's Seed Co. He has lost the label and wondered if we could identify it.

Bartley raised tuberous begonias on his back porch. He simply grows them in pots, keeps them on a table and sees to it that the soil does not dry out. They are protected from the afternoon sun. None has come into bloom yet but the foliage is flourishing and healthy.

Bartley gardens on a small scale. Many a gardener we know (including ourself) would do well to copy his little layout.

Got a Hot Item

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—Mrs. Fannie Behm was puzzled. She was sure the radiator of her car had plenty of water, but the temperature gauge on the dashboard showed the motor was very hot.

She had her husband check under the hood. Not only was there no water, there was no radiator.

Police decided thieves had stolen it sometime during the night while the car was in the family garage.

Rose Annual Now Available

The Rose Annual is ready! Put out each year by the American Rose Society this book is a "must" for every rosarian no matter how small his rose garden may be. Fifteen new roses are beautifully illustrated in the new manual.

In an article, "New Roses of the World" 126 new varieties are described. These include both domestic and foreign roses.

Published for both the beginner and the expert, the American Rose Annual's 28 articles are an excellent collection of the latest information on general rose culture, and specific articles deal with rootstocks, floribunda roses, miniature roses, fragrance, propagation, landscape uses, importing and event including recipes for old-fashioned rose jars.

The Proof of the Pudding, now in its 36th year, reports on the performance of 159 new roses in home gardens throughout the nation and is an invaluable guide in planning new rose purchases.

Available from the American Rose Society, 4048 Rosealea Place, Columbus 14, Ohio; 201 pages, 15 color plates, $4.50.

A new crop of flower show judges have made the first leg of their five course journey. Mrs. Schubert Measamer, Mrs. John Eshelman, Mrs. Theodore Huston and Mrs. Charles Thompson received their exam grades this last week.

I have a hunch they all passed with flying colors.

New Engineer At GE Plant

HAROLD CHAITEN

Harold Chaiten, 30, has joined the engineering staff of the Circleville General Electric Lamp Plant, it was announced today by E. G. Grigg, plant manager. Chaiten has assumed the position of quality engineer and will report to Mr. Keith Smith, supervisor of quality engineering.

A native of Rahway, N. J., the new GE engineer holds a B. S. degree in electrical engineering from Case Institute of Technology.

He began his GE career in 1956 as a design engineer at the Photo Lamp Department located at Nela Park, Cleveland. He later served as a quality engineer at East Cleveland Lamp Plant, and since December 1960 has been at Seaboard Lamp Plant, Newark, N. J., as a quality engineer and foreman.

Chaiten and his wife, Sylvia, have two children, ages 2 and 4. They recently moved into their newly built home at 204 Edward Road in Circleville.

His hobbies are music and art.

Derby

On Tuesday afternoon June 26, relatives of Mrs. William Hollar gathered at Westgate Park in Columbus to help celebrate her birthday. Those present were her daughter, Mrs. Gary Wardell, Mrs. William Deyo and Mrs. Virgie Higgins, all from here, Mrs. Jeanie Higgins and children Randy, Ricky Rhonda and Robin, from Orient, Mrs. Virginia Comeans, and children Connie and Eddie from Columbus, and Mrs. Rose Herbert.

Mr. Frank Barthen suffered foot injuries last week at his home when a power mower he was using rolled backward one his foot.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith accompanied by the Misses Nell, Hazel and Sally Ridgeway visited Mrs. Opal Neal and Mr. Ray Ridgeway who have been patients in Doctor's Hospital the past week. Mrs. Neal was able to go home on Monday but at this writing Mr. Ridgeway is still a patient there. We hope he will be coming home very soon.

Vicki Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Cox, suffered a broken arm at the home of her grandmothers in Cincinnati when she fell from a tree. Her mother is still in Mt. Carmel hospital with a broken leg.

Congratulations and best wishes to Mr. Frank Fast who celebrated his 90th birthday last Sunday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Helen Arledge. There were five generations of the family present, including five great, great grandchildren. Included in the forty dinner guests present for the occasion were his daughter, Mrs. Lyda Carter who came in a wheelchair after having suffered a broken ankle at her home a week ago, Mrs. Ethel Colton, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Riley, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dennen, Kim and Kevin, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Toops and daughters Susan Jane, JoAnn, Pamela and Melinda Kay of Logan, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Toops, Jerry Jr. and Fred, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Toops, Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Yingler, Ronda Sue, Sue, Ronnie Jr., and Pamela of Mt. Ag Agency To Coordinate Its Services

WASHINGTON (AP) — Credit, technical and cost-sharing services of the Agriculture Department are to be coordinated at the individual family-farm level under an order by Secretary Orville L. Freeman.

"There are approximately 3.7 million full and part-time farm units today," Freeman said. "Less than one-half of these farm-operating families are able to obtain sufficient income from both farm and non-farm sources to provide minimum purchasing power required for an acceptable level of living."

Freeman's order will affect sections in every agricultural county in the nation: Farmers Home Administration, soil Conservation Service, and the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Previously these services were coordinated on a county-wide basis.

Under the new directive, agencies will coordinate these services on the basis of the individual family farm operator.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Production of red meat during the first five months of 1962 totaled 11,626,000 pounds, 3 per cent more than the amount produced during the same period in 1961.

The Agriculture Department said that of the January-May volume this year, 6,121,000 pounds were beef, up 2 per cent from the previous year; 375 million pounds were veal, down 3 per cent; 4,788,000 pounds were pork, up 6 per cent; and 342 million pounds were lamb and mutton, down 4 per cent.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department has bought 11,529,000 pounds of dried whole eggs at a cost of $11,864,000 since March 2 as a means of helping remove excess egg supplies from the market.

The dried eggs are used for school lunch and institutional programs.

Robert Bowers, 26-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. Harold Bowers of Ashville, was recently named Executive Head of The Plain Local School District of Stark County. Bowers, the youngest in Stark County School System, was a graduate of Ashville High School.

Jim Wills, Nick Nance, Bill Dore, and David Cook of Ashville returned home Saturday evening after spending a week touring Washington D. C. with a group of other students from Pickaway County. The tour was conducted by Ruth Stout, a teacher in the Washington Township School.

The "Metta-Larks" will present a one hour varied program Wednesday evening July 11 at 8 p.m. at the Lancaster Camp Grounds for the summer residents there. The public is invited to attend and hear the local quartet of ladies. Singing in the quartet is Mrs. David Dill, Mrs. Boyd Fosnaugh, Mrs. Chester Peters, and Mrs. Neil Barr.

The "Metta-Larks" will present special music this Sunday for worship services at both the Ashville and Hedges Chapel Methodist Churches.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Courtwright held open-house Wednesday for the Huntington High School Band after their performance in the 4th of July Parade in Ashville. Mrs. Courtwright taught this past year at Huntington High School, near Waverly.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Bowers entertained with a picnic supper Sunday night honoring the birthdays of Dr. Al Nicely, Charles Nicely, and Miss Helen Bowers.

In addition to the honored guests present were Mrs. Nicely, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bowers, Mrs. Ethel Fridley, Mrs. Elizabeth Wagner, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Dore, Marty and Bill and Miss Mary Jo Bowers.

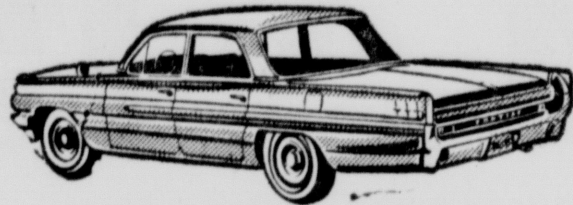

Dr. and Mrs. Nicely and Charlie returned Friday from Milwaukee where Dr. Nicely has been interning the past year. Mrs. Nicely has been an instructor in the Psychiatric Hospital. On Monday Dr. Nicely began a three year residency in Ophthalmology at University Hospital. The Nicely's are residing in Columbus.

teer Fire Department had a busy week answering the following fire and emergency runs: Thursday, June 28 at 2:28 p. m. they were called to the Scioto Grain Co. where cobs were burning out of control. No damage was listed. Friday, June 29 at 10:45 a. m. they extinguished a blaze in a truck owned by James Little at the Madison Township School and at 11:30 a. m. they were called to extinguish a grass fire at Gregory's Trailer Court. Sunday, July 1 they were called at 3:30 p. m. to extinguish a field fire at Chester Fausnaugh's farm on Cromley Road and Monday, July 2 they treated Millie Stevens, with the Nolan Amusement Co., at the firehouse for convulsions. Oxygen was administered and a local physician called to treat the girl.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hudson visited several days in Cincinnati and cared for their grandchildren, Mark and Beth Kisker, while their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Whitney Kisker enjoyed a business and pleasure trip to Philadelphia.

While in Philadelphia the Kiskers enjoyed a visit with Mrs. Kisker's brother and family, Lt. Commander and Mrs. Richard Hudson and sons.

Mr. and Mrs. Hudson had as their house guests for the 4th,

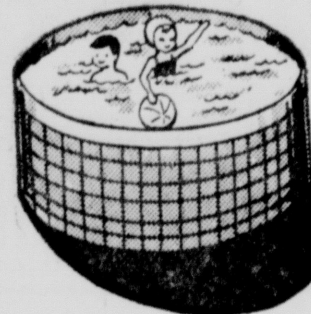

Mrs. Eddie Kingman and daughter, and Mrs. Kingman's mother, Mrs. Dora Eiseaman.

The Bastian Funeral Home made the following ambulance runs this past week: Monday, June 25 took George Williams to St. Anthony Hospital and Evan Reese to Berger Hospital; Friday, June 29 returned George Williams home; and Monday, July 2 took Thomas Calton to Grant Hospital.

Mrs. Harry Margulis was returned home Saturday from Grant Hospital where she had been confined several weeks recovering from injuries suffered in an automobile accident.

New Engineer At GE Plant

HAROLD CHAITEN

Harold Chaiten, 30, has joined the engineering staff of the Circleville General Electric Lamp Plant, it was announced today by E. G. Grigg, plant manager. Chaiten has assumed the position of quality engineer and will report to Mr. Keith Smith, supervisor of quality engineering.

A native of Rahway, N. J., the new GE engineer holds a B. S. degree in electrical engineering from Case Institute of Technology.

He began his GE career in 1956 as a design engineer at the Photo Lamp Department located at Nela Park, Cleveland. He later served as a quality engineer at East Cleveland Lamp Plant, and since December 1960 has been at Seaboard Lamp Plant, Newark, N. J., as a quality engineer and foreman.

Chaiten and his wife, Sylvia, have two children, ages 2 and 4. They recently moved into their newly built home at 204 Edward Road in Circleville.

His hobbies are music and art.

Derby

On Tuesday afternoon June 26, relatives of Mrs. William Hollar gathered at Westgate Park in Columbus to help celebrate her birthday. Those present were her daughter, Mrs. Gary Wardell, Mrs. William Deyo and Mrs. Virgie Higgins, all from here; Mrs. Jeanie Higgins and children Randy, Ricky Rhonda and Robin, from Orient, Mrs. Virginia Commans, and children Connie and Eddie from Columbus, and Mrs. Rose Herbert.

Mr. Frank Barthen suffered foot injuries last week at his home when a power mower he was using rolled backward one his foot.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith accompanied by the Misses Nell, Hazel and Sally Ridgeway visited Mrs. Opal Neal and Mr. Ray Ridgeway who have been patients in Doctor's Hospital the past week. Mrs. Neal was able to go home on Monday but at this writing Mr. Ridgeway is still a patient there. We hope he will be coming home very soon.

Vicki Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Cox, suffered a broken arm at the home of her grandmothers in Cincinnati when she fell from a tree. Her mother is still in Mt. Carmel hospital with a broken leg.

Congratulations and best wishes to Mr. Frank Fast who celebrated his 90th birthday last Sunday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Helen Arledge. There were five generations of the family present, including five great, great grandchildren. Included in the forty dinner guests present for the occasion were his daughter, Mrs. Lydia Carter who came in a wheelchair after having suffered a broken ankle at her home a week ago, Mrs. Ethel Colton, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Riley, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dennen, Kim and Kevin, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Toops and daughters Susan Jane, JoAnn, Pamela and Melinda Kay of Logan, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Toops, Jerry Jr. and Fred, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Toops, Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Yinger, Ronda Sue, Sue, Ronnie Jr., and Pamela of Mt. Sterling, Mrs. Howard Temple of Washington C. H., Mr. and Mrs. Harold Tayner and son Franklin of London, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jester of Orient, Mrs. Ota Fast of Harrisburg, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Winsor of Cincinnati, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Thompson and Linda of Parkman, O.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith and daughter, Nancy, Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Graham and Cheryl, M. and Mrs. Kerwin Durlinger and Marci Jo, Mr. and Mrs. Harve Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Ridgeway and Linda, and the Misses Nell, Sally, and Hazel Ridgeway all went on a picnic at Gold Cliff Park near Circleville. Kennedy Seeks New Atlantic Partnership

"A great new edifice is not built overnight," he said. "Building the Atlantic partnership will not be cheaply or easily finished."

Overseas, both British and French newspapers gave the speech prominent display. The Time of London said it was "an imaginative idea, typical of his sense of style and history."

In Philadelphia, five governors reached for comment supported Kennedy's appeal for a partnership with a united Europe. Expressions of support came from Democrats Ernest F. Hollings of South Carolina, David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania, John Dempsey of Connecticut and Edmund G. Brown of California and Republican John Anderson Jr. of Kansas.

Anderson tempered his support with the comment "action and not brave words will mark progress in this field. This is where we have bogged down in the past."

The President said "today Americans must learn to think intercontinentally." And, looking to the future, he said that if the Atlantic partnership can be worked out, "we can assist the developing nations to throw off the yoke of poverty."

"We can balance our worldwide trade and payments at the highest level of growth," he said. "We can mount a deterrent powerful enough to prevent all aggression. And ultimately we can help to achieve a world of law and free choice, banishing the world of war and coercion."

The holiday crowd, celebrating the 166th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, interrupted Kennedy's address six times with applause. Afterward, Kennedy left by helicopter for the quiet of Camp David. His wife and their two children went there by automobile earlier in the day.

The President's news conference, at 4 p.m., Eastern Daylight Time, will be carried live by the ABC, CBS, Mutual and NBC radio networks and by NBC-TV. The CBS and ABC television networks will tape the conference and televise it at 5 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time.

B&O Set To Offer Trainload Rate

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad plans to offer cheaper rates by the trainload to help soft coal compete as a steam fuel for generating electric power.

Jervis Langdon, president, said the reduced rates will go into effect next April 1 if approved by Interstate Commerce Commission. He did not state the proposed difference between the bulk transportation rate and existing single car loads beyond that it will be substantial.

The lower rates will apply to coal moved in trainloads of 4,500 or 9,000 net tons to one electric generating plant on the eastern seaboard served by the B & O.

I'm with You, Mom!

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I totally disagree on one subject and want you to settle it. When I punish our three-year-old child (usually by a spanking) I leave him for 10 to 30 minutes to ponder what he has done wrong. Then when he comes to me and tells me he is sorry, I forgive him and that I love him.

My husband will spank the child and, while he is still crying from the punishment, he'll pick him up and kiss him and comfort him. He believes that the spanking is the punishment, and it is necessary to assure the child immediately afterwards that he is loved regardless of what he has done. I think this undoes any good by the punishment. We'd like your opinion.

ONE AGAINST ONE
DEAR ONE: To kiss and comfort a child who is crying as a result of punishment gives the child the impression that perhaps you were wrong in punishing him, and are seeking HIS forgiveness.

DEAR ABBY: Recently you had a letter in your column from a mother who was "disgusted" because her daughter received a corsage made of dog biscuits! Abby, didn't you know that when a girl reaches her 12th birthday she gets a lollipop corsage? On her 13th she gets a bubble gum corsage. On her 14th it's dog biscuits. For her 15th it's life savers, and on her 16th it's sugar cubes.

KATHIE
DEAR KATHIE: I must be the original "cube" because this is all news to me. Thanks for putting me wise. What's 17th, 18th and 19th?

DEAR ABBY: The young man who wondered about having his bread buttered by his lady friend might try this:

For 25 years I have been buttering bread for my husband. When I pass the buttered bread to him he kisses my finger-tips. He claims this is the most exciting part of the meal. I agree. Wouldn't you?

STILL ROMANTIC
DEAR STILL: You bet. It's better than dessert, and not as fattening.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "STILL WAITING": Give up. He won't call. Why should a man chase a bus if he's already caught it?

How is the world treating you? For a personal, unpublished reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of this paper.

Consumer Buying Faces Close Study

NEW YORK (AP)—Consumer buying—the biggest thing in the U.S. economy—is in for closer than ever scrutiny today. The other chief forms of spending—by business and by government—are generally accepted as having pretty well taken shape for 1962.

Government spending is going to rise over the long range, stimulating certain industries, assuring some jobs and maybe creating some others.

Business spending plans can change, but most seem to call for a slight increase this year over last. And, anyway, business spending plans over the long range are tied to ultimate sales to the consumers and the government, or to prospects for such sales. Any big jump in business spending probably will have to wait for idle production facilities to be activated by increased consumer demands.

So what the consumer is going to do is the chief concern right now.

Particularly puzzling the soothsayers is just how much, if any,

Americans will cut back their buying of goods and services because of losses in the stock market, or because of fear of the future induced by the stock market crash.

The latest pulse taking of consumer psychology finds it "soberly optimistic but not exuberant."

The questioning by the University of Michigan Survey Research Center was done while stocks were sliding, but most consumers were contacted before the big break of May 28 and the morning of May 29.

Government statistics also lag. The Department of Commerce says "retail sales continued at a high volume during May though they did not quite match the record total for the month of April."

Early reports of cutbacks in spending by consumers since the big drop in stock prices have concentrated largely in luxury items. Individuals who lost a lot of cash, or those who still have their stocks but aren't worth as much on paper as they once thought they were, are reported to have canceled plans to buy expensive houses, yachts, jewelry. So far stores have reported little apparent cutback in the buying of moderately priced items.

But, even so, consumer spending isn't all that the economic planners would like it to be. A little more of it would give the economy a nice boost.

This is behind much of the drive for quick tax cuts, especially in the lower income brackets. Tax cut advocates contend that any such increase in disposable incomes would quickly find its way into trade or the payment for services.

But some economists doubt this. They concede that those who habitually spend all they make would increase their outlays if their tax bills were less. But those who think they already are spending as much as prudence dictates might use the tax windfall to increase their savings.

Ordnance Contracts Are Given to Avco

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Avco Corp. says it received new ordnance contracts totaling 19,597,000 in the second quarter of this year. The orders from the Army, Navy and Air Force included engineering and production of ammunition and missile parts, the firm said. Avco's ordnance operation is at Richmond, Ind.

Now He Tells Us

ATLANTA (AP) — A Fulton County Grand Jury had been in session for about four months when its foreman, Jack Isenberg, was replaced with another foreman.

Isenberg lived in an adjoining county and was ineligible to serve.

Local Students Attend JESSI At DePauw U

Two Circleville students are among 76 junior and senior high school boys attending the fourth annual Junior Engineers' and Scientists' Summer Institute (JESSI) at DePauw University, Greencastle, Ind.

They are William Clifton, 307 S. Court St. and C. Peter DeNeef, 987 Lynwood Ave.

The institute, which will continue through July 14, is sponsored by Midwestern business and industrial firms and "Scientists of Tomorrow," a non-profit organization in Portland, Ore.

The two-week program is designed to give the students a sampling of science and engineering courses. The boys will also learn the requirements for a college degree, the study demands of college, and some of the careers available in the fields of science and engineering.

INCLUDED in the curriculum are courses in architecture, botany, bacteriology, chemistry, engineering, geology, mathematics, physics, and zoology.

Director of the institute is Dr. Albert E. Reynolds, head of the DePauw zoology department. The faculty consists of other DePauw professors and staff members of nearby universities.

Because JESSI represents serious exploration into basic and applied sciences, admission is granted only to students who have completed at least three courses in science or mathematics.

Florida Mayor Finds Parkmeters Crooked

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Mayor Robert King High was right, Miami's parking meters are crooked—at least some of them.

High followed up a complaint from a taxpayer that a meter had not given him full time and was shorted. High demanded the meters be checked.

The parking department said Monday 8 of 122 meters checked so far were defective.

Kennedy Seeks New Atlantic Partnership

"A great new edifice is not built overnight," he said. "Building the Atlantic partnership will not be cheaply or easily finished."

Overseas, both British and French newspapers gave the speech prominent display. The Time of London said it was "an imaginative idea, typical of his sense of style and history."

In Philadelphia, five governors reached for comment supported Kennedy's appeal for a partnership with a united Europe. Expressions of support came from Democrats Ernest F. Hollings of South Carolina, David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania, John Dempsey of Connecticut and Edmund G. Brown of California and Republican John Anderson Jr. of Kansas.

Anderson tempered his support with the comment "action and not brave words will mark progress in this field. This is where we have bogged down in the past."

The President said "today Americans must learn to think intercontinentally." And, looking to the future, he said that if the Atlantic partnership can be worked out, "we can assist the developing nations to throw off the yoke of poverty."

"We can balance our worldwide trade and payments at the highest level of growth," he said. "We can mount a deterrent powerful enough to prevent all aggression. And ultimately we can help to achieve a world of law and free choice, banishing the world of war and coercion."

The holiday crowd, celebrating the 186th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, interrupted Kennedy's address six times with applause.

Afterward, Kennedy left by helicopter for the quiet of Camp David. His wife and their two children went there by automobile earlier in the day.

The President's news conference, at 4 p.m., Eastern Daylight Time, will be carried live by the ABC, CBS, Mutual and NBC radio networks and by NBC-TV. The CBS and ABC television networks will tape the conference and televise it at 5 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time.

B&O Set To Offer Trainload Rate

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad plans to offer cheaper rates by the trainload to help soft coal compete as a steam fuel for generating electric power.

Jervis Langdon, president, said the reduced rates will go into effect next April 1 if approved by Interstate Commerce Commission. He did not state the proposed difference between the bulk transportation rate and existing single car loads beyond that it will be substantial.

The lower rates will apply to coal moved in trainloads of 4,500 or 9,000 net tons to one electric generating plant on the eastern seaboard served by the B & O.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's Fourth of July proposal—partnership with Western Europe—was not new with him although it will get more attention in the years ahead.

Kennedy dipped away back, as far back as the 1960 campaign, for some of the words and phrases he used Wednesday at Philadelphia.

Nevertheless, he left the idea of American partnership with a united Western Europe deliberately vague, as he has in the past. There were three understandable reasons for this:

1. At this moment no one can predict what kind of unity the West Europeans will work out among themselves. They're just talking of it now.

2. What kind of partnership this country will consider, if any, will depend on what European unity turns out to be.

3. Before there is any partnership at all the whole idea will become a national discussion and get a long going over in Congress.

At least twice in the 1960 campaign Kennedy, dwelling on the magic attractiveness of independence and freedom, quoted Thomas Jefferson's phrase about the infectiousness of the "disease of liberty."

The President, who clings to phrases which catch his fancy, used the Jefferson phrase again Wednesday. And again he emphasized the appeal of freedom and independence.

In Britain, the Times of London, reacting favorably to Kennedy's talk, called his reference to interdependence between the United States and Europe an "imaginative idea, typical of his sense of style and history."

But even this word—interdependence—wasn't new with Kennedy Wednesday. He used it at least once before. In a joint statement with West Germany's Chancellor Adenauer last year after the two men met.

If the President ever used the word "partnership"—in reference to Europe—in the 1960 campaign, this writer is not aware of it and could find no record of it.

But since 1960—after becoming

President—Kennedy has talked a number of times about the idea of partnership, not only with Europe but with the new nations.

Never—Wednesday or before—has he spelled out what he means by partnership.

At this moment in Europe French President Charles de Gaulle seems to have in mind a unity based on a confederation of European nations, with each re-

Entire Township Eyes Incorporation

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—Voters of Ross Township in northern Wood County will decide in a special election Aug. 7 whether to incorporate the entire township as the village of Northwood.

The incorporation move is an attempt to forestall annexation of any portion of the township by the city of Toledo, which wants to develop the deactivated Rossford Ordnance Depot as an industrial site. Ross Township lies between Toledo and Perrysburg Township (Wood County), where the depot is located.

The township trustees decided to set the special election date even though officials of the city of Toledo, the University of Toledo and Libbey - Owens - Ford Glass Co. urged the trustees not to act hastily. The glass firm has a plant in the township.

Bride Must Notify Dad of Her Marriage

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Newlywed Mrs. Ronald Francis Currier must make a formal written report informing her father of her marriage.

Her father, school Supt. O. Perry Walker, gave his daughter away upon her marriage to Dr. Ronald Currier, but since Mrs. Currier is a teacher she must comply with school board regulations and inform the superintendent of her marriage.

taining its own, full sovereignty. This would mean they'd have some arrangement for working together but each would remain its own boss.

This is a long way from the kind of greater unity which might be achieved if the West Europeans, for the sake of greater combined strength and common purpose, were willing to yield some sovereignty in a closer merger.

Since the Europeans still haven't worked out the final details of their own common trading market, any realization of greater political unity, even though the idea is cooking, still seems distant.

When Kennedy in the past has talked of partnership with other countries, he has submerged it more or less in whatever else he was saying at the time.

For example: He talked of such a partnership in his foreign aid message of 1960 and his foreign trade message this year. In the latter he was talking of a trading partnership. If he has anything broader in mind he hasn't said.

Wednesday, however, by making partnership pretty much the main point in his talk, he gave it a prominence which is necessary to get consideration of it started in this country.

Congress has been perpetually wary of anything which would require this country to yield any of its right or ability to do as it sticking points before the United States joined the United Nations.

Kennedy may feel now that by stressing the possibility of American partnership he may induce the Europeans to think in terms of closer unity than they have in mind.

But this can hardly be more than a limited inducement until Kennedy spells out in some detail what he's talking about.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Skies were mostly fair over Ohio Wednesday night. Temperatures by early today were in the 50s north to the 70s south.

Daybreak today began with sunshine and some light fog and haze in most sections. Early morning temperatures included Cleveland 58, Toledo 59, Cincinnati 73 and Columbus 65.

A frontal system through Wisconsin, Illinois and Missouri will move eastward today, producing scattered showers and thunder showers mostly over the southern and central portions of Ohio by late this afternoon or tonight.

Shower activity is expected to end in the eastern sections by early Friday morning.

25-Year-Old Wife Ready To Help Conductor, 85

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—Wherever Pablo Casals is, a beautiful young woman is always nearby. Even at rehearsals, there she sits, a rap-turou little smile on her face, ready with a gesture of approval if he should turn toward her.

"I like to be there, to help if I can; if not, to listen and enjoy it. We're separated only when I go to market," says Marta Montanez de Casals.

She is the grave-eyed Puerto Rican girl Casals took as his fourth wife five years ago amid some worldwide headshaking over May-December marriages.

The famous cellist and conductor is a vigorous 85. Marta—everyone uses the diminutive form of her name—will be 26 in November.

"I never think of the difference in our ages," she says. "Our life is so full, so happy, so wonderful. Once people see us, they understand—I hope they do. I wish many others were as happy as we are."

Small, graceful, classic featured Marta has a serenity and dignity that make her seem more mature than her 2½ decades. She dresses simply—"My husband and I like everything conservative"—and attracts as little attention as possible to herself.

Her conversation, which centers around her husband as often as she is able to swerve it that way, indicates their closeness.

Marta met short, stocky, balding Casals in 1954, when she won a $1,000 prize to study cello under his direction at Prades, France.

International Studies Are Stressed at Miami

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—Miami University plans to set up an undergraduate center for international studies for students who intend to work abroad, provost Charles Ray Wilson said today.

The center would offer a directed course of study leading to the degree bachelor of arts in international studies. The program will be under the university's College of Arts and Sciences.

Dodgers Claim NL Flag Based On July 4 Edge

Holiday Tradition Gives Advantage to Los Angeles Crew

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Los Angeles Dodgers have passed the July 4 milestone with a half-game edge over San Francisco's Giants and added baseball tradition to their line-up in their struggle for National League supremacy.

Tradition jumped on Los Angeles' bandwagon after Wednesday's program as the Dodgers swept their seventh consecutive doubleheader by belting Philadelphia 16-1 and 7-3. The twin triumphs kept the Dodgers a half-length ahead of the Giants, who whipped the New York Mets 11-4 and 10-3.

That, according to baseball's July 4 rule of measure gives the Dodgers a commanding edge over the runner-up Giants. In the 61 seasons since the turn of the century, 39 NL teams leading after the holiday games have won the pennant—an average of 64 per cent.

The Dodgers' sweep turned Los Angeles into the baseball capital for a day at least—as the 2-year-old Angels moved into first place in the American League by defeating Washington 4-2 and 4-1. In the AL, 41 of 61 July 4 leaders—or 67 per cent—have won the pennant.

Pittsburgh remained in third place in the NL, taking Houston 7-0 and 4-3. Fourth-place St. Louis stopped Milwaukee 2-0 after losing the completion of Tuesday night's suspended game, 7-5. Cincinnati's defending champs, in fifth place, defeated the Chicago Cubs 8-6.

Elsewhere in the AL, the New York Yankees fell to second by losing to Kansas City 11-1 before winning the nightcap 7-3. Third-place Cleveland edged Detroit 1-0 in 10 innings and 6-2 in 13. Minnesota beat Boston 8-4, then lost 9-5 and Baltimore defeated Chicago 9-3 before the White Sox won the second game 5-2.

Frank Howard's single and bases-loaded double drove in five runs in support of Sandy Koufax' five-hit pitching as the Dodgers pounded Chris Short (4-5) and his successors for 18 hits in the first game. Koufax (12-4) didn't allow a hit until Ted Savage homered in the seventh inning.

Howard drove in two runs in the nightcap. Tommy Davis had a two-run homer and run-scoring single. Joe Mauer (6-3) got credit for the Dodgers sixth consecutive victory. Dennis Bennett (2-4) was the loser.

Home runs got the job done for the Giants in both halves of their doubleheader with the Mets. Willie McCovey smashed a pair in the opener. Ed Bailey and Jim Davenport also connected as Bob Bolin (3-0) won it with a seven-hitter. Bob Miller (0-7) was the loser.

Willie Mays hit two homers in the second game to give Billy O'Dell (10-6) enough working room to last the distance although tagged for 10 hits. Billy Hunter (1-4) took the loss.

An 11-hit offensive also worked for the Pirates in the nightcap. Elroy Face, working in relief of Earl Francis (5-5) ran into trouble in the ninth when the Colts pushed across two runs, but got Merritt Raney on a grounder to end it.

Jim Golden (5-7) was the loser. Ed Mathews clinched the verdict for the Braves in the suspended game by breaking the 5-5 tie with a two-run ninth inning homer. The Cards took the regulation contest as Ernie Broglio (4-3) checked the Braves on three singles to beat Warren Spahn (7-10).

Leo Cardenas' brilliant play on Billy Williams grounder after the Cubs had scored four runs in the eighth preserved the Reds' triumph for Jim Maloney (3-3). Dick Ellsworth (4-13) lost it.

Chico Wilson paid $3.60 for place and Karen Perdue was worth $3.60 for show.

Savings Bank, Herald Hawks Register Wins

The Savings Bank registered a 12-9 come from behind win over the Jaycees in the only little league minor action Tuesday. The IOOF-Circleville Oil tilt and the game between the First and Second National Banks were rained out.

In the Little League Majors, The Herald Hawks easily beat the Bingman Drug nine 15-2.

The Jaycees went out front in the first inning of their game with the Savings Bank, scoring three runs in their initial at bat. The Savings scored one in the first, one in the second and took the lead with two in the third. In the fourth canto the Jaycees tallied three runs to the Bankers' one, taking a 6-5 lead.

The Savings offense exploded in the fifth for seven big runs giving them a six run margin. The Jaycees scored only three in the last two innings.

Dean Reichelderfer paced the winning attack collecting two runs on three hits, including a home run and a double. Dan Ankrum belted two singles and a double and Mike Rhoades, the winning pitcher, collected a double and two singles at the plate.

Mike Johnson led the losers, scoring two runs and collecting two of their five hits. Dick Prushing had two hits, a triple and a double.

It was the third win for the season for the Savings, and the League leading Jaycees' second loss.

Steve Gilmore scored three runs on two hits to pace the Herald Hawks. Bill Gilliam collected two hits. Dave Justice and Lloyd Crosby had one each. Steve Edstrom was the winning pitcher, going the route. Jim Campbell hurled for the losers.

It was the fourth win for the Hawks against five losses. The Bingman nine has yet to win a game.

The two games in the little league that were rained out will be played Friday. The IOOF-Circleville Oil game will be played at the south end diamond and the First-Second tilt will be played at the Fairgrounds little league diamond.

Fireball Roberts Wins in Daytona

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Glenn (Fireball) Roberts is back in form after scoring his second stock car racing victory of the year on the fastest track in the world.

The 31-year-old Roberts drove "my kind of race—wide open all the way" Wednesday in winning the Firecracker 250. Roberts roared across the finish line in his 1962 Pontiac 12 seconds ahead of the runner-up, Junior Johnson of Ronda, N.C., who also drove a Pontiac.

Roberts toured the 2½-mile high-banked track in 1 hour 36 minutes and 36 seconds for an average speed of 153.688 miles an hour. The record of 154.294 was set last year by David Pearson of Spartanburg, S.C., in a 1961 Pontiac.

Roberts' first win came in 1958 when he won the 100-mile race at Daytona. He has since won 11 other races, including the 1961 Daytona 500.

Ohio Amateur Due in Dayton

Record Entry List Awaits Tournament

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's 56th amateur golf championship, Country Club, has drawn the biggest entry in its history.

W. H. Margraf, secretary of the sponsoring Ohio Golf Association, said Tuesday 246 players would participate in the Monday-Tuesday qualifying rounds, and that the entry of many others—received Tuesday after the deadline—had been turned down.

Included in the huge field will be 17 representatives of the Ohio Public Links Golf Association. The fee course contingent is allotted 24 places, all of whom must be entrants in the public links event scheduled at Columbus Oakhurst Golf Club Aug. 8-10, but seven entries arrived too late to be certified.

This battle of the simon-pures is one of the country's toughest tests. Professional stars Jack Nicklaus and Dow Finsterwald failed to win the title despite numerous tries. Arnold Palmer, as a Pennsylvania Coast Guardsman stationed in Cleveland, won it twice.

Walter Stahl of Cleveland, the defending champion, is among the entrants and he gets into the July 11 match play bracket of 64 without the necessity of qualifying. Columbus public linkster Mike Podolski, who met Stahl in last year's finals at Toledo, has turned professional and will not be on hand.

Among the former champions due to try again are Tony Blom of Cincinnati, Dan Carmichael and two-time king John Florio of Columbus, and Ed Preisler of Cleveland.

Coleman Back In Form, but Not Satisfied

CINCINNATI (AP)—Gordie Coleman, the angry young man of the Cincinnati Reds, came through again Wednesday, but he still was not satisfied with himself.

The first baseman's hitting and fielding had dropped off to an alarming degree until the Chicago Cubs came to town for a four-game series this week. Then he hit a homer in the ninth inning of the second game of Monday's two-nighter to give the Reds an even break in the evening. And Tuesday he got two for four and drove in another important run for the Reds.

His personal celebration of the Fourth of July Wednesday was driving in two more runs, a stolen base and a bang-up defensive job to help the Reds whip the Cubs. "I still want to do better," he said after the game.

The Reds were idle today. The team resumes regular play Friday night against the Houston Colt 45s.

Baseball Turnout Declines on Fourth

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Although there were an additional four games on the July 4 program, baseball attendance dipped about 5,000 from last year's total as 224,866 fans turned out for 18 major league games Wednesday.

The National League led the way this year as 115,292 clicked through the turnstiles for eight games. Last year the NL drew 66,134 for six games.

The American League attracted 109,574 patrons for 10 games this year to 163,270 for eight in 1961. Both leagues totaled 229,404 last season.

Columbus Jets Split Twin Bill At Atlanta

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The International League standings may have a very familiar look today.

There were no winners and no losers Wednesday. After 68 innings of baseball, the status was quo. Because everyone split doubleheaders.

Richmond snapped Jacksonville's five-game winning string by taking the nightcap 8-2 after the leading Suns won the seven-inning opener 7-2. Syracuse stopped second-place Toronto 7-6 in the opener, but the Leafs won the second 1-0. Columbus beat Atlanta 9-0 in the first game, and Atlanta won the second 6-4. Buffalo won the seven-inning opener 2-1, Rochester the nightcap 9-7.

Jerry Buchek, hitless in previous trips, hit a three-run homer with two out in the ninth to give Atlanta the nightcap victory over Columbus. The Jets took the opener on a three-hitter by Riverboat Smith and home runs by Larry Elliott and Wilber Stargell.

British Course Bugs Nicklaus

TROON, Scotland (AP)—Jack Nicklaus, United States Open Champion, today predicted that the holes of the back nine of the Troon links could send scores soaring in the British Open Golf Championship starting Monday.

Nicklaus, of Columbus, Ohio, has had two days of practice over the 7,045-yard links on the edge of the Firth of Clyde. He admits that the incoming rain still has him baffled.

Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer, U.S. Masters Champion, Sam Snead, winner of the British Open in 1946 and one of the game's greatest players, Gene Littler, 1961 U.S. Open Champion, and Phil Rodgers head the 29-strong American challenge—the strongest U.S. entry for years.

All-Stars Trip Legion Nine

The Babe Ruth all-stars defeated the American Legion team, 6-4, in an exhibition game played yesterday at the Ted Lewis Park, Sunday the all-stars were edged by Chillicothe's all-stars, 3-2 at Chillicothe. Tuesday, the Kochheiser and VFW game was forfeited to VFW because Kochheiser didn't have enough players, and the Savings Bank at Ashville No. 2 game was rained out.

Howard Dade had two singles in two official trips to the plate for the All-Stars, and he also scored a run. Dave Bass blasted a triple and Bob Purcell socked a double and scored a run.

Bass and Dave Green pitched for the all-stars and limited the Legion nine to five singles. Bass pitched three innings and struck out three. Green pitched

Dodgers Claim NL Flag Based On July 4 Edge

Holiday Tradition Gives Advantage to Los Angeles Crew
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Los Angeles Dodgers have passed the July 4 milestone with a half-game edge over San Francisco's Giants and added baseball tradition to their line-up in their struggle for National League supremacy.

Tradition jumped on Los Angeles' bandwagon after Wednesday's program as the Dodgers swept their seventh consecutive doubleheader by belting Philadelphia 16-1 and 7-3. The twin triumphs kept the Dodgers a half-length ahead of the Giants, who whipped the New York Mets 11-4 and 10-3.

That, according to baseball's July 4 rule of measure gives the Dodgers a commanding edge over the runner-up Giants. In the 61 seasons since the turn of the century, 39 NL teams leading after the holiday games have won the pennant—an average of 64 per cent.

The Dodgers' sweep turned Los Angeles into the baseball capital for a day at least—as the 2-year-old Angels moved into first place in the American League by defeating Washington 4-2 and 4-1. In the AL, 41 of 61 July 4 leaders—or 67 per cent—have won the pennant.

Pittsburgh remained in third place in the NL, taking Houston 7-0 and 4-3. Fourth-place St. Louis stopped Milwaukee 2-0 after losing the completion of Tuesday night's suspended game, 7-5. Cincinnati's defending champs, in fifth place, defeated the Chicago Cubs 8-6.

Elsewhere in the AL, the New York Yankees fell to second by losing to Kansas City 11-1 before winning the nightcap 7-3. Third-place Cleveland edged Detroit 1-0 in 10 innings and 6-2 in 13. Minnesota beat Boston 8-4, then lost 9-5 and Baltimore defeated Chicago 9-3 before the White Sox won the second game 5-2.

Frank Howard's single and base-loaded double drove in five runs in support of Sandy Koufax' five-hit pitching as the Dodgers pounded Chris Short (4-5) and his successors for 18 hits in the first game. Koufax (12-4) didn't allow a hit until Ted Savas homered in the seventh inning.

Howard drove in two runs in the nightcap. Tommy Davis had a two-run homer and run-scoring single. Joe Mauer (6-3) got credit for the Dodgers' sixth consecutive victory. Dennis Bennett (2-4) was the loser.

Home runs got the job done for the Giants in both halves of their doubleheader with the Mets. Willie McCovey smashed a pair in the opener. Ed Bailey and Jim Davenport also connected as Bob Bolin (3-0) won it with a seven-hitter. Bob Miller (0-7) was the loser.

Willie Mays hit two homers in the second game to give Billy O'Dell (10-6) enough working room to lead the distance although tagged for 10 hits. Billy Hunter (1-4) took the loss.

Vern Law (7-3) continued his comeback for the Pirates in the opener to post his fourth consecutive triumph. Bob Bruce (6-2) was the loser.

An 11-hit offensive also worked for the Pirates in the nightcap. Elroy Face, working in relief of Earl Francis (5-5) ran into trouble in the ninth when the Colts pushed across two runs, but got Merritt Raney on a grounder to end it. Jim Golden (5-7) was the loser.

Ed Mathews clinched the verdict for the Braves in the suspended game by breaking the 5-5 tie with a two-run ninth inning homer. The Cards took the regulation contest as Ernie Broglio (4-3) checked the Braves on three singles to beat Warren Spahn (7-10).

Leo Cardenas' brilliant play on Billy Williams' grounder after the Cubs had scored four runs in the eighth preserved the Reds' triumph for Jim Maloney (3-3). Dick Ellsworth (4-13) lost it.

Savings Bank, Herald Hawks Register Wins

The Savings Bank registered a 12-9 come from behind win over the Jaycees in the only little league minor action Tuesday. The IOOF-Circleville Oil tilt and the game between the First and Second National Banks were rained out.

In the Little League Majors, The Herald Hawks easily beat the Bingman Drug nine 15-2.

The Jaycees went out front in the first inning of their game with the Savings Bank, scoring three runs in their initial at bat. The Savings scored one in the first, one in the second and took the lead with two in the third. In the fourth canto the Jaycees tallied three runs to the Bankers' one, taking a 6-5 lead.

The Savings offense exploded in the fifth for seven big runs giving them a six run margin. The Jaycees scored only three in the last two innings.

Dean Reichelderfer paced the winning attack collecting two runs on three hits, including a home run and a double. Dan Ankrom belted two singles and a double and Mike Rhoades, the winning pitcher, collected a double and two singles at the plate.

Mike Johnson led the losers, scoring two runs and collecting two of their five hits. Dick Prushing had two hits, a triple and a double.

It was the third win for the season for the Savings, and the League leading Jaycees' second loss.

Steve Gilmore scored three runs on two hits to pace the Herald Hawks. Bill Gillian collected two hits. Dave Justice and Lloyd Crosby had one each. Steve Edstrom was the winning pitcher, going the route. Jim Campbell hurled for the losers.

It was the fourth win for the Hawks against five losses. The Bingman nine has yet to win a game.

The two games in the little league that were rained out will be played Friday. The IOOF-Circleville Oil game will be played at the south end diamond and the First-Second tilt will be played at the Fairgrounds little league diamond.

Fireball Roberts Wins in Daytona

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Glenn (Fireball) Roberts is back in form after scoring his second stock car racing victory of the year on the fastest track in the world.

The 31-year-old Roberts drove "my kind of race—wide open all the way" Wednesday in winning the Firecracker 250. Roberts roared across the finish line in his 1962 Pontiac 12 seconds ahead of the runner-up, Junior Johnson of Ronda, N.C., who also drove a Pontiac.

Roberts toured the 2 1/2-mile high-banked track in 1 hour 36 minutes and 36 seconds for an average speed of 153.688 miles an hour. The record of 154.294 was set last year by David Pearson of Spartanburg, S.C., in a 1961 Pontiac.

Ohio Amateur Due in Dayton

Record Entry List Awaits Tournament

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's 56th amateur golf championship, Country Club, has drawn the biggest entry in its history.

W. H. Margraf, secretary of the sponsoring Ohio Golf Association, said Tuesday 246 players would participate in the Monday-Tuesday qualifying rounds, and that the entry of many others—received Tuesday after the deadline—had been turned down.

Included in the huge field will be 17 representatives of the Ohio Public Links Golf Association. The fee course contingent is allotted 24 places, all of whom must be entrants in the public links event scheduled at Columbus Oakhurst Golf Club Aug. 8-10, but seven entries arrived too late to be certified.

This battle of the simon-pures is one of the country's toughest tests. Professional stars Jack Nicklaus and Dow Finsterwald failed to win the title despite numerous tries. Arnold Palmer, as a Pennsylvania Coast Guardsman stationed in Cleveland, won it twice.

Walter Stahl of Cleveland, the defending champion, is among the entrants and he gets into the July 11 match play bracket of 64 without the necessity of qualifying. Columbus public linker Mike Podolski, who met Stahl in last year's finals at Toledo, has turned professional and will not be on hand.

Among the former champions due to try again are Tony Blom of Cincinnati, Dan Carmichael and two-time king John Florio of Columbus, and Ed Preisler of Cleveland.

Coleman Back In Form, but Not Satisfied

CINCINNATI (AP)—Gordie Coleman, the angry young man of the Cincinnati Reds, came through again Wednesday, but he still was not satisfied with himself.

The first baseman's hitting and fielding had dropped off to an alarming degree until the Chicago Cubs came to town for a four-game series this week. Then he hit a homer in the ninth inning of the second game of Monday's two-nighter to give the Reds an even break in the evening. And Tuesday he got two for four and drove in another important run for the Reds.

His personal celebration of the Fourth of July Wednesday was driving in two more runs, a stolen base and a bang-up defensive job to help the Reds whip the Cubs.

"I still want to do better," he said after the game.

The Reds were idle today. The team resumes regular play Friday night against the Houston Colt .45s.

All-Stars Trip Legion Nine

The Babe Ruth all-stars defeated the American Legion team, 6-4, in an exhibition game played yesterday at the Ted Lewis Park, Sunday the all-stars were edged by Chillicothe's all-stars, 3-2 at Chillicothe. Tuesday, the Kochheiser and VFW game was forfeited to VFW because Kochheiser didn't have enough players, and the Savings Bank at Ashville No. 2 game was rained out.

Howard Dade had two singles in two official trips to the plate for the All-Stars, and he also scored a run. Dave Bass blasted a triple and Bob Purcell socked a double and scored a run.

Bass and Dave Green pitched for the all-stars and limited the Legion nine to five singles. Bass pitched three innings and struck out three. Green pitched the final six, fanning four.

George Reeser and Gary Ferguson allowed the all-stars ten hits. Reeser pitched three innings and struck out four; Ferguson pitched six innings, whiffing six.

Tomorrow the all-stars will leave the ball park at 3 p. m. for Springfield, Ohio. They will play Grove City in a tournament game beginning at 6 p. m. Saturday they have a return engagement with the Chillicothe All-Stars at Ted Lewis Park at 6:30 p. m.

Before the American Bowling coated bowling pin in 1954, a total of 900,000 games were rolled to test the pins.

1. Card of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere thanks to relatives, friends and neighbors for their kindness, sympathy, cards and beautiful floral offerings shown us during the illness and death of our sister, Gertrude Peters, the Denenbaugh Funeral Home and to Mrs. Larry Graham for the beautiful hymns rendered.
Bro. Jesse Thomas and Sister, Belva Forquer and family.
We wish to extend our sincere thanks and appreciation for the acts of kindness, messages of sympathy and beautiful floral offerings from our many friends and relatives in our sad bereavement in the loss of our beloved wife and mother, Sallie E. Davis. We especially thank the Rev. L. S. Metzler, and Singers, Denenbaugh Funeral Home, Dr. F. W. Anderson and to all the nurses at Berger Hospital.

Beauty Contest At Ashville Has 21 Entries

Vying for the title of Miss 4th of July Tuesday evening were 21 entrants in the Ashville Miss 4th of July Parade and Beauty Contest.

The parade began at 7 p. m. and was followed by the judging in the Community Park. Groveport - Madison High School Band and the Teay's Valley High School Band marched in the parade. Adding gaiety to the parade were several comedy beauty contestants. The small community was packed with spectators watching the parade and viewing the judging.

Named Miss 4th of July was Nancy Kubilius of Dayton, sponsored by Bastian's Coffee Shop. She was presented a 21 jewel wristwatch, a pearl tiara, and a corsage.

First runner-up was Sandy Trimble of Ashville, sponsored by Seymour's Insurance. She was presented $25 cash and a corsage. Second runner-up was Nancy Harris of Ashville who was presented a season ticket to the Ashville Swimming Club and a corsage.

THE girls were judged in bathing suits only. Also in the final seven were Sharon Arledge of Circleville, sponsored by Eloise's Beauty Salon; Beverly Johnson of Lockbourne Air Force Base, sponsored by Featheringham's Furniture; Carol Wylie of Trotwood, sponsored by Bob Bausum, realtor; and Deirda Wiggins, Route 3, Circleville, sponsored by the Youth Center.

Other beauties entered in the contest and sponsors were: Clara Clements of Columbus; Barbara Ann Schultz of Canal Winchester; Rosemary Kirkner of Groveport; Chharlene Thomas of Amanda; Martha Pontious of Circleville; Alice Hylton of Ashville; Janet Johnson of Circleville; Ginger Warner of Circleville; Mary Ellen Layton of Ashville; Mary Lynn Sells of Mt. Sterling; Joan Ginter of Kingston; Mona Dawson of Circleville; Sharon Kay Kenton of Circleville; and Karen Hulise of Laurelville.

Having the difficult task of judging the event was Dr. and Mrs. Richard Baisel of Columbus and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wells also of Columbus. Robert Bausum served as master of ceremonies and the Groveport - Madison Band furnished music during the judging.

Convention Slated

Wayne Fetherolf, presiding minister of the local congregation of Jehovah's witnesses, announced that the Circleville congregation has been invited to attend an assembly in Lima, July 20-22.

The convention will feature speakers from the Ohio and Indiana area as well as traveling representatives of the Watchtower Society.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Thursday, July 5, the 186th day of 1962. There are 179 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this day in 1935, President Roosevelt signed the Wagner-Connery bill, known later as the National Labor Relations Act. The measure was one of the most far-reaching attempts ever made in this country to adjust standards of industrial employment conditions to modern industrial conditions.

On this date:

In 1680, Father Hennepin discovered St. Anthony Falls near the site of what is now Minneapolis.

In 1830, the French occupied the Egyptian port of Alexandria.

In 1830, the French occupied the city of Algiers.

In 1940, Great Britain and the French Vichy government severed diplomatic relations.

In 1959, President Sukarno of Indonesia abolished the House of Assembly and took full executive powers.

Today's birthdays:

French poet - dramatist Jean Cocteau is 71 years old. Former U.S. ambassador to the United Nations Henry Cabot Lodge is 60.

Thought for today:

For we that live to please must please to live—Samuel Johnson.
